CLARK STALEY NAMED POLICE OFFICER HERE

Clark W. Staley, 33, 208 South Stratton street, a veteran of two and a half years of service in World War II during the greater part of which time he did military police duty, was elected a member of the Gettysburg police force by borough council at a special meeting Tuesday evening to fill the position soon to be made vacant by the induction of Chief of Police Glenn Guise.

At the same time council named Paul B. "Curley" Shearer, Seminary Ridge, former member of the borough police force, as part-time officer to take the place of Officer C. William Zhea, also soon to be inducted.

Zhea's duties as janitor at the engine house will be taken over by Clair Foulk, new operator at the sewage disposal plant, who will continue with his present duties and perform the engine house duties on a part-time basis.

Secret Ballot

The changes will be effective on the date Guise and Zhea leave their duties here for service with the armed forces. Council was told Tuesday evening that Guise may be called in about 10 days. Zhea's induction also is expected soon.

Staley's selection was made on a secret ballot in which he received all but one of the votes cast. The other applicants voted upon were Edgar "Reds" Shearer, Hunterstown road, and Arthur A. Kelly, 237 York street. Staley's salary will be the same as that received by the other full-time officers of the force, $120 per month.

Without a special vote council agreed that all members of the force shall be directly responsible to Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer. No officer will be designated as chief.

Staley was a member of Company E, local unit of the National Guard, for six and a half years before it was activated in February, 1941. He went to Indiantown Gap and then to Camp Livingston, Louisiana. He received a medical discharge last September. The basis for his discharge will not impair his services on the police force, councilmen said.

Fix Salaries

Staley formerly was employed at the Gettysburg furniture factories but recently has been working at the Zerling Hardware store, center square.

Following the recommendation of the safety committee as outlined by its chairman, Harry J. Troxell, council designated Paul B. Shearer as special officer to be paid 60 cents an hour for his time on duty, councilmen estimated he would

Ray Williams, 47, McKnightstown, was reported in a fair condition at the Warner hospital today following his admission Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for treatment to injuries received in a one-car auto accident about an hour earlier on the Scotland-Black Gap road, one mile north of Fayetteville.

Williams, owner and operator of the car, received concussion of the brain, a fractured upper jaw, lacerations of the face and a broken nose.

Three other Adams countians who were occupants of the car and all of whom were returning from work at the Letterny Depot, near Chambersburg, were less seriously injured. Marian Hessler, 19, Cash-town, received a bruised face. Leonard Ballard, aged about 19, Orrtanna R. D., sustained lacerations of the chin and Florence Rommell, McKnightstown, suffered a bruised foot.

Car Hit Culvert

It was reported today there were two other occupants in the Williams car but it could not be confirmed.

The accident is reported to have occurred when Williams attempted to pass another auto going in the same direction. The Williams machine went off the left side of the highway and struck a concrete culvert and over-turned. Damage to the car was estimated at $400.

State police from the Chambersburg substation investigated. No charges were laid.

RENEW APPEALS FOR DONATIONS TO RED CROSS

With a number of neighboring towns already "over the top" the Adams county Red Cross War Fund drive is being spurred to its utmost as it approaches the home stretch with approximately $18,000 of its $26,000 quota either at hand or unreported.

Canvassers of various districts of Gettysburg and Adams county have turned in $13,026.29 while estimates of collections made in other districts that have not reported to county headquarters total an additional $5,000.

"We appeal to Adams countians who have not contributed to do so now for weather and road conditions have made it extremely difficult for solicitors to complete their rounds," a War Fund campaign leader said today.

Only Few Days Left

"We have relatively few days left in which to succeed or fail in our duty to our men and women on the battlefronts of the world. It is the responsibility of every Adams countian to see that we make our quota by March 31. The fact that a solicitor was not able to get around will not alter individual responsibility in the matter nor will it modify our county's failure if we do not have our $26,000 quota by the end of the month."

"There are any number of former subscribers who have not contributed to the campaign so far. There are a number of industries and larger contributors who are still to be heard from. Undoubtedly, they are awaiting the call of a solicitor but we urge them to send their contributions to the headquarters office with the assurance that their district will receive proper credit."

Praise Solicitors

Campaign officials have high praise for the work that has been done so far in the campaign. More complete reports have been filed so far than in any previous drive which indicates the enthusiasm and determination of the campaign workers.

Another gratifying feature to district chairmen and solicitors has been the manner in which many contributors have increased their former subscriptions in ratio to the greater need and the larger sum that must be raised this year.

Solicitors report finding an eagerness to contribute which they say is founded on the knowledge that the Red Cross is at the side of the fighting man at the front and is helping him to fight and helping him to live.

No one associated with the drive is entertaining any doubt about Ad-

Times To Publish Biographical Sketches Of Airport Personnel

At the request of the Civil Aeronautics administration and the War Training services and as a matter of public record to illustrate Gettysburg's activities in the all-out war effort, The Gettysburg Times will publish thumb-nail biographical sketches of the 17 flight training instructors and maintenance supervisors and the owner-operator of the Gettysburg School of Aero-nautics.

Of outstanding significance and importance is the fact that the flight instructors have flown, out of this airport, during the indoctrination course of approximately one year, a little more than 1,000,000 miles without the slightest accident or injury. This is approximately 40 times around the world.

All flight training instructors at the local airport are in the Army Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and have earned a high rating for efficiency from government inspectors and Air Corps officers.

Many of the men who received their preliminary flight training here are now commissioned officers in the Army Air Forces and are flying bombers and fighter planes

A cast of 14 students, many of them veterans of other dramatic productions at the high school, is completing rehearsals under the direction of Miss Ruth A. McIlhenny and Miss Ruth Scott, of the faculty.

Report Hitlerites Are Spreading To Bulgaria, Rumania

London, March 22 (AP)—German troops, already in control in Hungary, were reported moving today to extend full military occupation to Bulgaria and Rumania and the Turkish radio expressed the view Hitler soon would place all three countries under one command "to intensify the German war effort in southeast Europe."

Advices from neutral capitals indicated the Nazi divisions were seizing strategic military and civil administration centers with all the speed and ruthlessness that characterized German troop movements at the start of the war.

Except for minor cases of resistance the occupying forces apparently were having things all their own way.

In Italy

With the Fifth Army at Cassino, March 22 (AP)—The fight for the ruins of Cassino developed into the wildest battle of the Italian campaign today with two German counterattacks against Castle hill behind the town, New Zealanders slugging it out in the streets, and German and Allied mortar and artillery shells landing within a few hundred yards of each other.

Allied guns were brought up to fire at direct range on the Continental hotel in which the Germans managed to reinstall themselves after once being driven out. The hotel area and entire south end of town held by the Germans were brought under this fire.

Open City - - ?

London, March 22 (AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio today announced that the Germans would withdraw all military installations from Rome and would divert all military traffic from the city, in an effort to place responsibility for bombings entirely on the Allies.

The broadcast apparently sought to declare Rome an open city. Such a unilateral declaration, of course, has no effect on international law, since it would have to be accepted by the Allies to make it binding. The Badoglio government of Italy made Rome an open city before Badoglio capitulated last September.

The broadcast said:

"So that responsibility for the bombing of Rome will remain entirely with the Allies, the German command in the next few days will scrupulously withdraw from Rome every installation which could serve as the slightest pretext for air terror, and will still further deviate military transports from the Eternal City."

Invasion Ring

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 22 (AP)—The snapping shut of an invasion ring around thousands of Japanese at Rabaul, Kavieng and in the Solomons by Marine landings in the St. Matthias Islands, 580 miles south of Truk, was disclosed today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The flat island of Emirau, a potential air base, and nearby Elobomao were occupied easily Monday by ground forces from the Solomons who thus shut Adm. William F. Halsey's front line past the length of New Ireland to a near juncture with General MacArthur's conquerors of the Admiralties.

While the invaders, aided by air and naval cover, brushed aside light opposition, the town of Kavieng on New Ireland, 84 miles to the south-east of the St. Matthias group, virtually was erased in a three and one half hour bombardment. Big American battleships, making their first appearance in the Bismarck Sea, joined other warships in hurling 1,000 tons of shells.

The leapfrog thrust into the St. Matthias group, made possible by air and naval neutralization of the intervening bases of Rabaul and Kavieng, "completes isolation of all enemy bases in the Bismarck archipelago and places us in bombing range of Truk," General MacArthur said.

Patch For Patton

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 22 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, 54-year old veteran of Guadalcanal and New Caledonia, has been given command of the U. S. Seventh Army, replacing Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who led it to victory in Sicily and later was rebuked by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the slapping of a soldier in a field hospital near Palermo.

Nips In India

New Delhi, March 22 (AP)—Japanese troops who launched a major offensive in northern Burma several days ago have crossed the border of India and penetrated into Manipur state "at one or two places," an Allied communication announced today. The bulletin said the enemy forces consisted merely of small raiding parties.

WILL IS FILED

The will of Annie E. Harner, late of Littlestown, has been entered at the court house. A nephew, Stewart D. Harner, Littlestown, is executor of the $100,000 estate.

On Red Front

London, March 22 (AP)—Russian armies smashing through Bessarabia in a mighty surge toward the Balkans have knifed to within 30 miles of the Prut river border of Rumania, Moscow announced today, and other forces striking southward were reported within 48 miles of the major escape road for the thousands of Germans in the Odessa bottleneck.

Reinforced by masses of tanks and artillery pouring steadily across the Dniester river, the Russians slashed the Cernauti-Baltsky trunk railway in their advance toward the Prut, starting line for the southern wave of the 1941 German invasion, a Soviet communique declared. The Russian units sweeping southward toward the vital Odessa-Tiraspol-Iasi railway also struck to within 20 miles of another escape line for the Germans in the south.

The hammer and sickle was raised above 330 more liberated towns and villages yesterday as the Russians continued to pound the Germans back along the 500-mile front from old Poland to the Black Sea. The Soviet bulletin said the forces striking for Lwow, big Nazi communications hub in old Poland, had crushed into Lwow province. The Russians were within 56 miles of Lwow itself.

In the fighting in old Poland, the Russians said the Nazis threw in an infantry division "just arrived from Denmark" but several German counter-attacks were repulsed and 900 of the enemy were killed.

In the fighting in old Poland, the Russians said the Nazis threw in an infantry division "just arrived from Denmark" but several German counter-attacks were repulsed and 900 of the enemy were killed.

In The Air

London, March 22 (AP)—More than 1,000 American planes showered new destruction on Berlin today, returning to the German capital for the first time since March 9. They dropped probably 1,500 tons of bombs.

"Strong forces" of Liberators and Fortresses attacked industrial and military targets in Berlin. U. S. air headquarters announced, indicating that 500 to 750 heavy bombers made the 1,150 mile round trip. Many hundreds of Thunderbolt, Lightning and Mustang fighter planes accompanied them.

Mosquito bombers struck in western Germany last night.

London, March 22 (AP)—About 100 German warplanes subjected London to a sharp attack last night, causing casualties and damage in a number of sections in the heaviest assault upon the city since the fire raid of March 17.

Bombs also were dropped at scattered points in east Anglia and southeast England by the raiders, nine of which were shot down, a communique said.

The planes which attacked London struck in three waves from the northeast and southeast and were greeted by a thunderous barrage which reared a new window-rattling peak in some areas.

Finns - - Reds

Moscow, March 22 (AP)—Further peace conversations between Moscow and Helsinki appeared unlikely today in the wake of an official Soviet announcement warning Finland that she must bear responsibility for whatever may happen as a result of her failure to accept Russia's March 1 armistice proposals, which the Soviet called "minimum and elementary."

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. William Sanders, Gettysburg R. 2, and Gerald T. Nary, Biglerville R. 1, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Amanda Louise Wills, Greentown; Frank Pitzer, Steinwehr avenue; Mrs. John Hock, Jr., 229 North Stratton street, and Frank Helm, Gettysburg R. 2.

Friends of Reds

The Bulgarian cabinet was said by the Ankara radio to have met in prolonged session yesterday to discuss German demands for active help in the Nazi war against Russia. Bulgaria, at war with Britain and the United States, never has interrupted relations with Russia, long her friend and champion.

London morning newspapers published Ankara dispatches saying it was reported there that Premier Ion Antonescu of Rumania was planning to seek an armistice with Russia, whose troops already are surging deeply into Bessarabia. Rumania was believed ready to renounce all claim to Bessarabia as one of the armistice conditions, these dispatches said.

Control Hungary

A flood of reports about the situation in Hungary agreed on one point only—that 100,000 German troops now completely dominate the country with full control of all railways and communications. There were indications that Nazis were attempting to set up a quisling regime in Budapest.

Berlin itself remained silent about what is proposed in the Balkans, although a foreign office spokesman indirectly intimated military occupation of the entire area might be proposed.

"Before present political developments aimed at strengthening German defense forces there have been concluded no German statement may be expected," he said, adding: "Germany's allies must now assume burdens equal to those borne by Germany."

As in the case of Hungary, swiftly occupied in a 36-hour coup early in the week, information about the situation in Rumania and Bulgaria was confused.

Move On Bucharest

The London Daily Mail said it was believed in Ankara that occupation of Rumania was imminent, if not actually in progress, and quoted unconfirmed reports that four German motorized divisions and several divisions of infantry were advancing toward Bucharest.

An Associated Press dispatch from Ankara said the entire German southeastern defense command was being tightened under command of a German general whose name was expected to be announced shortly. This dispatch quoted the correspondent of a Turkish newspaper as declaring "these measures are much more important than they might appear."

Of outstanding significance and importance is the fact that the flight instructors have flown, out of this airport, during the indoctrination course of approximately one year, a little more than 1,000,000 miles without the slightest accident or injury. This is approximately 40 times around the world.

Report Hitlerites Are Spreading To Bulgaria, Rumania

London, March 22 (AP)—German troops, already in control in Hungary, were reported moving today to extend full military occupation to Bulgaria and Rumania and the Turkish radio expressed the view Hitler soon would place all three countries under one command "to intensify the German war effort in southeast Europe."

Advices from neutral capitals indicated the Nazi divisions were seizing strategic military and civil administration centers with all the speed and ruthlessness that characterized German troop movements at the start of the war.

Except for minor cases of resistance the occupying forces apparently were having things all their own way.

Friends of Reds

The Bulgarian cabinet was said by the Ankara radio to have met in prolonged session yesterday to discuss German demands for active help in the Nazi war against Russia. Bulgaria, at war with Britain and the United States, never has interrupted relations with Russia, long her friend and champion.

London morning newspapers published Ankara dispatches saying it was reported there that Premier Ion Antonescu of Rumania was planning to seek an armistice with Russia, whose troops already are surging deeply into Bessarabia. Rumania was believed ready to renounce all claim to Bessarabia as one of the armistice conditions, these dispatches said.

Control Hungary

A flood of reports about the situation in Hungary agreed on one point only—that 100,000 German troops now completely dominate the country with full control of all railways and communications. There were indications that Nazis were attempting to set up a quisling regime in Budapest.

Berlin itself remained silent about what is proposed in the Balkans, although a foreign office spokesman indirectly intimated military occupation of the entire area might be proposed.

"Before present political developments aimed at strengthening German defense forces there have been concluded no German statement may be expected," he said, adding: "Germany's allies must now assume burdens equal to those borne by Germany."

As in the case of Hungary, swiftly occupied in a 36-hour coup early in the week, information about the situation in Rumania and Bulgaria was confused.

Move On Bucharest

The London Daily Mail said it was believed in Ankara that occupation of Rumania was imminent, if not actually in progress, and quoted unconfirmed reports that four German motorized divisions and several divisions of infantry were advancing toward Bucharest.

An Associated Press dispatch from Ankara said the entire German southeastern defense command was being tightened under command of a German general whose name was expected to be announced shortly. This dispatch quoted the correspondent of a Turkish newspaper as declaring "these measures are much more important than they might appear."

JUDGE'S SISTER DIES IN YORK

Mrs. Frances B. Morse, 559 Colonial avenue, York, wife of Otis B. Morse and sister of Judge W. C. Sheely, died at the York hospital, Tuesday night, after an illness of three days.

Mrs. Morse was born in Adams county and was a daughter of the late W. C. and Eugenia (Hanna) Sheely. She graduated from the Gettysburg high school and from Gettysburg college in 1913. She taught in the York high school both before and after her marriage and was recalled to the teaching staff as a substitute in recent years.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Morse is survived by these children: Otis B. Morse, 4th, serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Meade; and Miss Jean Morse, at home; a sister, Mrs. Karl Patterson, Wilkensburg, and one brother, Judge Sheely of Gettysburg.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, East Market street, York, with Mrs. Morse's pastor, the Rev. Thomas S. Dickson, officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Friends may call at the First Presbyterian church in York from 1 p. m. Thursday until the hour of the funeral.

In Italy

With the Fifth Army at Cassino, March 22 (AP)—The fight for the ruins of Cassino developed into the wildest battle of the Italian campaign today with two German counterattacks against Castle hill behind the town, New Zealanders slugging it out in the streets, and German and Allied mortar and artillery shells landing within a few hundred yards of each other.

Allied guns were brought up to fire at direct range on the Conflinental hotel in which the Germans managed to reinstall themselves after once being driven out. The hotel area and entire south end of town held by the Germans were brought under this fire.

Open City - - ?

London, March 22 (AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio today announced that the Germans would withdraw all military installations from Rome and would divert all military traffic from the city, in an effort to place responsibility for bombings entirely on the Allies.

The broadcast apparently sought to declare Rome an open city. Such a unilateral declaration, of course, has no effect on international law, since it would have to be accepted by the Allies to make it binding. The Badoglio government of Italy made Rome an open city before Badoglio capitulated last September.

The broadcast said: "So that responsibility for the bombing of Rome will remain entirely with the Allies, the German command in the next few days will scrupulously withdraw from Rome every installation which could serve as the slightest pretext for air terror, and will still further deviate military transports from the Eternal City."

Invasion Ring

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 22 (AP)—The snapping shut of an invasion ring around thousands of Japanese at Rabaul, Kavieng and in the Solomons by Marine landings in the St. Matthias Islands, 580 miles south of Truk, was disclosed today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The flat island of Emirau, a potential air base, and nearby Ebon, musao were occupied easily Monday by ground forces from the Solomons who thus shot Adm. William F. Halsey's front line past the length of New Ireland to a near juncture with General MacArthur's conquerors of the Admiralties.

While the invaders, aided by air and naval cover, brushed aside light opposition, the town of Kavieng on New Ireland, 84 miles to the southeast of the St. Matthias group, virtually was erased in a three and one half hour bombardment. Big American battleships, making their first appearance in the Bismarck Sea, joined other warships in hurling 1,000 tons of shells.

The leapfrog thrust into the St. Matthias group, made possible by air and naval neutralization of the intervening bases of Rabaul and Kavieng, "completes isolation of all enemy bases in the Bismarck archipelago and places us in bombing range of Truk," General MacArthur said.

Patch For Patton

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 22 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, 54-year old veteran of Guadalcanal and New Caledonia, has been given command of the U. S. Seventh Army, replacing Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who led it to victory in Sicily and later was rebuked by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the slapping of a soldier in a field hospital near Palermo.

Nips In India

New Delhi, March 22 (AP)—Japanese troops who launched a major offensive in northern Burma several days ago have crossed the border of India and penetrated into Manipur state "at one or two places," an Allied communique announced today. The bulletin said the enemy forces consisted merely of small raiding parties.

BRUTAL STEP IN HUNGARY IS GOOD MOVE FOR NAZIS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press War Analyst)—Germany's seizure of Hungary—a move which is partly military and partly political—is smart tactics, although it's a typical Hitlerian act of brutal ruthlessness against a country which has served the Axis well.

It is a logical step in the Nazi dictator's preparations for the final defense of his inner fortress, towards which he is being steadily driven.

On its political side it's calculated to terrorize the Balkans and unhappy little Finland into sticking to the sinking ship. It ought to have the opposite effect, if horse-sense prevailed among the satellites, since it's fresh proof that the Fuehrer will sacrifice them to the last man. However, fear rather than reason has been ruling them. Their future attitude will depend heavily on Russia's further progress into the Balkan peninsula.

Guarding Oil Fields

From the military standpoint Hitler is aiming at two prime objectives: (1) He is establishing a barrier across the great Danubian gateway into his inner fortress, and (2) he is providing himself with a base from which to defend the Balkans against the onrushing Red Armies and to keep his allies in line.

One highly important aspect of the situation is, of course, the vital necessity of protecting Rumania's Ploesti oil fields. This represents Hitler's sole source of natural oil, the rest being laboriously made synthetically. His oil barrel is dangerously low, and without lubrication neither his war industries nor his military machine can continue to run.

Another point is that he must provide refuge for the host of soldiers in his shattered army on the Russian southern front. Some of these are now fleeing into Bessarabia in an effort to reach Rumania; others are struggling in the Red traps, and still further forces are cooped up on the Crimea and will have to be transported by air or by sea to Rumanian ports.

Danube A Life-Line

Hungary is the logical point for Hitler's operations in southeastern Europe. Not only are there prime rail connections with Germany and with the Balkans, but the great Danube river forms one of the most important communications on the continent. Small craft can travel from the Black sea clear into the Reich and there cross by canal into the Rhine which will take them to the North Sea.

This Danubian route becomes doubly important to Hitler now that he has lost the rich agricultural lands of the Ukraine upon which he banked to keep his people well fed. There still remain the endless wheat and corn fields of Rumania and Bulgaria for him to draw upon, and the Danube provides transport for this and other products.

Thus the Danube comes pretty close to being Germany's life-line.

Revolt May Come

The Balkan crisis is in a state of flux. Beyond the fact that Hitler has occupied Hungary with troops, reports are confused.

There are indications that some Hungarians are trying to revolt against the Nazi gangster. It's possible that further Russian successes may inspire other resistance to Hitler in the Balkans, since there's small love for Germany on the peninsula.

So far as regards Hungary, while it is highly independent, there are considerable elements there which will support Hitler. When I was in Budapest just after Munich I witnessed what then was a strange sight—a parade of men belonging to a new political order. The police watched them carefully, but I saw paraders surreptitiously giving one another the Nazi salute.

NEW ERUPTION FROM VESUVIUS

On the slopes of Vesuvius, March 22 (AP)—A great new eruption from Vesuvius today covered the area around Pompeii with a two-inch layer of Lava hurled through the air in chunks, and sent a gigantic finger of glowing coal into houses of a third town on the northwestern slope.

Pompeii, at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius, on the south, was buried by the eruption of 79 A. D.

The hail of lava fell over crops in the area, burning them, American and British soldiers wore steel helmets against the shower, and natives placed iron pots on their heads.

Early this morning the molten river of lava rolling down the northwestern side of the mountain had swept away the first houses in Cereola two miles from the peak.

The latest blowoff of the famed volcano, whose lava swallowed up the villages of San Sebastiano and Massa di Somma yesterday, came at 4 a. m. today. Flames shot 200 feet above the circular cauldron, showing the countryside with cinders and lava dust and fine particles were still settling to earth at mid-morning in Salerno, 25 miles to the southeast.

All 38 were employed at the Bethlehem Steel company's Sparrows Point yard, which builds tankers and cargo ships for the government. Special Agent John W. Vincent, in charge of the Baltimore office said the falsification had been practiced for at least five years.

Books were originally made of boards or the inner bark of trees.

CHINESE WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON THURSDAY

Dr. Paul C. T. Kwei, on leave of absence from the National Wuhan university where he is professor of physics and dean of the School of Science, will deliver a lecture at 11 o'clock Thursday morning in the Majestic theatre under the sponsorship of Gettysburg college.

Doctor Kwei was born in Shashi, China, in 1895, and is a member of the Chinese Professors' group sent out by the Chinese government to study postwar problems.

He was educated at St. John's in Shanghai, the college which trained such distinguished Chinese statesmen as T. V. Soong, China's former foreign minister; Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to the Court of St. James, and Dr. Alfred Sze, for many years Chinese ambassador to the United States.

Degree from Yale

Coming to this country in 1914 on a Boxer Indemnity scholarship, Doctor Kwei entered Yale university from which he was graduated with an AB degree in 1917. During his Yale days he served as an associate editor of the Chinese Students' monthly, participated in the activities of the Cosmopolitan club and won a third prize in the Ten Eyck public speaking contest.

After graduation Doctor Kwei entered the graduate school of the University of Chicago with the intention of studying physics. However, upon finding that many of the professors were engaged in war work, Doctor Kwei became a YMCA secretary and spent 13 months in France working among the Chinese laborers.

Returning to this country in 1919, he studied at Cornell and obtained his MS degree. For the next two years he worked as an assistant in the Peking Union Medical college and then joined the staff of Yale in China. From 1923-25 he was granted a leave of absence to take his doctorate at Princeton university.

In 1927, when a communist disturbance closed Yale in China, Doctor Kwei went to the so-called "Tinder Box of Asia" to teach at the Northeastern university in Manchuria. The next year he became professor and head of the physics department of the University of Shanghai.

BRUTAL STEP IN HUNGARY IS GOOD MOVE FOR NAZIS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
Germany's seizure of Hungary—a move which is partly military and partly political—is smart tactics, although it is a typical Hitlerian act of brutal ruthlessness against a country which has served the Axis well.

It is a logical step in the Nazi dictator's preparations for the final defense of his inner fortress, towards which he is being steadily driven.

On its political side it's calculated to terrorize the Balkans and unhappy little Finland into sticking to the sinking ship. It ought to have the opposite effect, if horse-sense prevailed among the satellites, since it's fresh proof that the Fuehrer will sacrifice them to the last man. However, fear rather than reason has been ruling them. Their future attitude will depend heavily on Russia's further progress into the Balkan peninsula.

Guarding Oil Fields
From the military standpoint Hitler is aiming at two prime objectives: (1) He is establishing a barrier across the great Danubian gateway into his inner fortress, and (2) he is providing himself with a base from which to defend the Balkans against the onrushing Red Armies, and to keep his allies in line.

One highly important aspect of the situation is, of course, the vital necessity of protecting Rumania's Ploesti oil fields. This represents Hitler's sole source of natural oil, the rest being laboriously made synthetically. His oil barrel is dangerously low, and without lubrication his military machine can continue to run.

Another point is that he must provide refuge for the host of soldiers in his shattered army on the Russian southern front. Some of these are now fleeing into Bessarabia in an effort to reach Rumania; others are struggling in the Red traps, and still further forces are cooped up on the Crimea and will have to be transported by air or by sea to Rumanian ports.

Danube A Life-Line
Hungary is the logical point for Hitler's operations in southeastern Europe. Not only are there prime rail connections with Germany and with the Balkans, but the great Danube river forms one of the most important communications on the continent. Small craft can travel it from the Black sea clear into the Reich and there cross by canal into the Rhine which will take them to the North sea.

This Danubian route becomes doubly important to Hitler now that he has lost the rich agricultural lands of the Ukraine upon which he banked to keep his people well fed. There still remain the endless wheat and corn fields of Rumania and Bulgaria for him to draw upon, and the Danube provides transport for this and other products.

Thus the Danube comes pretty close to being Germany's life-line.

Revolt May Come
The Balkan crisis is in a state of flux. Beyond the fact that Hitler has occupied Hungary with troops, reports are confused.

There are indications that some Hungarians are trying to revolt against the Nazi gangster. It's possible that further Russian successes may inspire other resistance to Hitler in the Balkans, since there's small love for Germany on the peninsula.

So far as regards Hungary, while it is highly independent, there are considerable elements there which will support Hitler. When I was in Budapest just after Munich I witnessed what then was a strange sight—a parade of men belonging to a new political order. The police watched them carefully, but I saw paraders surreptitiously giving one another the Nazi salute.

NEW ERUPTION FROM VESUVIUS

On the slopes of Vesuvius, March 22 (AP)—A great new eruption from seething Mt. Vesuvius today covered the area around Pompei with a two-inch layer of Lava hurled through the air in chunks, and sent a gigantic finger of glowing coals into houses of a third town on the north-western slope.

Pompei, at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius, on the south, was buried by the eruption of 79 A. D.

The hall of lava fell over crops in the area, burning them. American and British soldiers wore steel helmets against the shower, and natives placed iron pots on their heads.

Early this morning the molten river of lava rolling down the north-western side of the mountain had swept away the first houses in Cersola two miles from the peak.

The latest blowoff of the famed volcano, whose lava swallowed up the villages of San Sebastiano and Massa di Somma yesterday, came at 4 a. m. today. Flames shot 200 feet above the circular cauldron, showering the countryside with cinders and lava dust and fine particles were still settling to earth at mid-morning in Salerno, 25 miles to the southeast.

THREE HURT IN TRUCK CRASH

Three persons were injured, none seriously, when a large coal truck and a passenger car side-swiped Tuesday morning at 7:10 o'clock along the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway, two miles south of Dillsburg.

George Kessler, 46, Dillsburg R. 2, was taken to the Polyclinic hospital, Harrisburg, with a possible fracture of the left hip. Mrs. Dorothy Fee, Dillsburg R. D., suffered a fracture of the right arm and Miss Lucille Smith, Dillsburg R. D., suffered abrasions of the right knee. Mrs. Fee was also taken to the Polyclinic hospital while Miss Smith was treated by a Dillsburg physician.

The accident occurred when the coal truck, operated and owned by Homer G. Keister, 27, Selinsgrove, jack-knifed while going down a hill and side-swiped a passenger car operated by Kessler. The coal truck, which was headed south, overturned along the side of the road.

All of the injured were occupants of the Kessler machine which was going north. A fourth passenger in the car was Mr. Fee who was uninjured. The party was en route to Mechanicsburg where all are employed.

State police are continuing an investigation.

Trust Officer Is Speaker For Lodge

John W. Hewitt, trust officer of the Gettysburg National bank, was the speaker Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Gettysburg Odd Fellows lodge at the organization's home on Chambersburg street.

Speaking on "Trust or Fiduciary Business," Mr. Hewitt pointed out that "the right to make a will is not a God-given right but was conferred by an English statute in the early part of the 13th century. Not more than a few centuries ago a man lacked the right to dispose of his property except by an out-right gift. This gift had to take place during his lifetime. At his death his personal property, clothes and cattle, usually were buried with him. His lands and buildings were taken by the state.

"Until about 35 years ago trust work was performed largely by individuals," Mr. Hewitt said. "A property holder usually chose a business acquaintance or member of the immediate family." The trust department of a bank or trust company is entirely separate from the bank or company itself, he pointed out. "Before an institution can engage in the trust business it must secure a special charter. The most important functions of a trust department are those of executor under a will, administrator, trustee under a will, trustee under a living trust, guardian of minors and incompetents and agency accounts."

Henry Taylor's Work Shown At Clearwater

The Clearwater Art Museum at Clearwater, Florida, has placed on exhibition a collection of nearly 100 oil and water color paintings by the late Henry W. Taylor, son of the late Rev. Franklin Taylor, former pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Taylor who now resides with a son at Alpine, Tennessee.

The collection, known as the Henry White Taylor Memorial Exhibition was opened in December with a brief program in respect for Mr. Taylor, former director of the museum. He died late in 1943. The paintings include 72 catalogued items, chiefly oils, together with supplementary unlisted watercolors and drawings.

Mr. Taylor resided here for a number of years during his father's pastorate and attended Gettysburg college as a member of the class of 1920. Announcement of the display is accompanied by the statement that it has been one of "major significance, instilling in the minds of observers a new conception of the power and versatility of the artist."

BRADFORD MAY WITHDRAW FROM PIAA PLAYOFFS

(By The Associated Press)

With the field narrowed to eight teams approaching the quarter-final round, dissent entered the PIAA state basketball championship playoffs today as Bradford high school protested what it termed the "unfair" traveling distance involved in inter-district matches.

The Bradford school board protested to Secretary Edmund Wicht of the PIAA the playoff schedule that sends the district 9 champions 140 miles to Farrell next Saturday night to meet Sharon, district 10 titlist, in a western regional semi-final.

Board President J. Paul Jones asserted the Sharon team will have to travel only a few miles to the neighboring community of Farrell. Last year, he said, Bradford was compelled to travel almost the same distance to Sharon to meet Farrell in inter-district play.

He said the board had received no reply from Wicht and intimated a decision might be made by the board at a meeting tomorrow night that would withdraw Bradford from the tournament.

Three Win Games
If Bradford withdrew, the PIAA would have to designate another opponent for Sharon, which advanced to the quarter-finals by defeating Pittsburgh Westinghouse 49-31 last night at Farrell. Westinghouse, champion of the Pittsburgh city league, represented district 8.

The other western quarter-final Saturday night will pit Duquesne WPAL and district 7 champion, against Franklin borough. The Franklinites, district 6 champions, defeated Boswell, district 5 representative, 33-25 last night at Johnstown. Boswell had been undefeated in 23 games.

In the only Eastern game last night, Sayre's district 4 standard-bearers swept Dalton of district 12 by a 35-15 count for the right to meet Lower Merion, defending state champion, at Allentown Saturday night.

The other Eastern quarter-finalists, Hazleton and Swoyerville, collide in Allentown Friday night. Hazleton, district 11 representative, appears destined to emerge from this game as the leading Eastern challenger to Lower Merion's title quest.

HARRISON WINS AT CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Sgt. "Dutch" Harrison, winner of the $10,000 Charlotte Open Golf tournament by one stroke, went quietly back to his army job today carrying with him two $1,000 war bonds and his lucky dime.

He found the dime on the way to the first tee on the opening day of the tournament.

"The last time that happened to me was before the Bing Crosby tournament five years ago, and I won that one, Dutch recalled.

He said the good luck omen gave him the confidence that stood up under a severe strain yesterday as Philadelphia's Jug McSpaden, most dangerous man on the winter circuit, whittled away at his four-stroke lead.

Harrison won the 72-hole event with a closing 73 for a total of 275, 13 under par. In the army for a year and a half and out of tournament play except for the Texas Open last month, he fired remarkable rounds of 66, 70 and 66 in the rain-lengthened five-day meet.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 22 (AP)—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which we find has been plugging amateur and "kid" baseball for a dozen years, seems to be getting results in its new campaign to persuade its inactive (and active) clubs to work with the youngsters. . . . Goldsboro, North Carolina, already has organized two junior leagues since Judge W. G. Bramham outlined the successful Fayetteville, North Carolina, plan and the Lockport, New York, Pony league club comes in with the news that it started a similar stunt last year and expects to have 250-300 kids playing ball this summer.

The association also is telling its members how the Denver "Old Timers league" works. . . . And what with the National Baseball congress registering semi-pro candidates Saturday at 8,750 sporting goods stores and most of the pro clubs hollering for help, it looks as if anyone who wants to play baseball this year will get a chance.

ANOTHER YOUTH MOVEMENT

The Utah basketball team, which bounced right into the National Collegiate AA basketball tournament after putting on a swell show against Kentucky in the New York invitation event, averages 18 years in age but the kids look a lot younger. . . . "In fact," explains Coach Vadal Peterson, "we used to put knee pads on the kids so they'd look bigger, but we lost the pads on a trip and can't get any more."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Hollywood is making overtures to Notre Dame's All America halfback Creighton Miller, who isn't looking the other way. . . . Jack McDonald, who survived a hockey season with the Rangers, is heading for Lakewood, New Jersey, to seek a trial with the Giants as a pitcher. . . . Kentucky's Bob Brannum is another basketball player who won't bother to return to college after the tournament. His Army number is up. . . . Wonder if there's any place but America where you'd see the kind of sportsmanship the Garden fans displayed when they gave a big hand to Utah's Wat Misaka, Hawaiian-born Japanese? The kid deserved it, too. . . . Glenn L. Martin, the Baltimore airplane man, will receive the sports afield trophy at Minneapolis Friday as the man who did the most for wildlife conservation in 1943.

PRIZE BONER

When a scribe asked him what was the most popular big league team with his countrymen, Jaime replied: "The Yankees, senior."—And right in the New York Giants' camp, too.

KLIEMAN GIVES CREDIT TO FAN FOR HIS SINKER

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Lafayette, Ind., March 22 (AP)—It took strapping Ed Klieman, Cleveland's newest pitching prize, seven years and the help of a baseball fan—to reach the major league.

Klieman's jump into big time is one of this season's strangest tales and he is quick to give full credit to his sinker ball. A fan actually climbed down out of the stands and taught him pointers on throwing a sinker and Klieman has developed the pitch to such perfection that last year he won 23 games for Baltimore of the International league.

Cleveland called in the Norwood, Ohio, youth for a late-season try in '43, and in his big league debut he shut out the Boston Red Sox for nine innings, only to lose, 1-0, in the 10th inning.

With the rapid development of the sinker came a vicious curve and extra steam until now Klieman has one of the finest changes of pace of any of the 10 pitchers working out in the Indians' spring camp.

The fellow responsible for all this? Klieman forgot to ask him his name.

Teacher, Unknown
"It was back in 1942," reflects the 190-pound right-hander, "when I was with Cedar Rapids in the Three Eye league. There was an old guy about 60 who never missed a game in Cedar Rapids—always sat by the bull pen and watched us warm up. Everyone knew him, but not by name.

"One day I was warming up and the old gent comes up in back of me and calmly asks if I knew how to throw a sinker.

"I said: 'No, pop, I don't know much about a sinker—suppose you want to teach me, huh?' and then I kinda laughed.

"But the old fellow took me serious and got right down to business. He showed me how to finger the ball and how to snap the wrist to make it skip like a waterbug. Every day he would come down out of the stands and watch me warm up and suggest new things. I was beginning to feel like Cinderella."

SPORT SHORTS

Boston, March 22 (AP)—Deep in the lists of army casualties released to the press yesterday was the name of Staff Sergeant David F. Cavanaugh, and his listed next of kin was his mother.

Investigation disclosed that the sergeant was one of seven children—all in the services—of the late "Iron Major," Frank Cavanaugh, whose football teams at Dartmouth, Boston college and Fordham spread his name across the nation.

The sergeant, now recovering from facial wounds suffered in the bitter battle going on at Cassino, is the "Dear Dave" to whom "Cav" wrote a stirring letter from France in World War I, telling him x x x you must always remember that your father came into this great war for the sake of all little children.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Tippy Larkin ruled a 11 to 5 favorite today to beat his New Jersey rival, Allie Stolz, in their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. In his last appearance at the Garden in February, Larkin outpointed Lulu Costantino. Stolz last fought in the Garden a year ago when he lost to Willie Pep.

Witness Missing At Murder Trial

Media, Pa., March 22 (AP)—One of the state's principal witnesses in the first murder trial of John A. (Jackie) Leeds was missing today as the 17-year-old youth's second trial in connection with the fatal beating of two aged sisters continued.

The witness was Charles Mitchell, 18, reported by the prosecution to have been inducted into the Army and sent overseas since Leeds' acquittal two years ago on a charge of murdering Mrs. Elizabeth Geary Watson, 83.

Leeds now is being tried in the slaying of Miss Belle Geary, 80, who lived with Mrs. Watson at Media and who was beaten at the same time.

CLEVELAND AND BUFFALO WIN

(By The Associated Press)

Cleveland and Buffalo, as anticipated, got off on the right foot last night in the opening games of the semi-final eliminations in the American Hockey league playoffs.

Cleveland delighted a home crowd of 8,776 by blanking the Hershey Bears, 2 to 0, while at Buffalo the Bisons came from behind to whip the Indianapolis Caps, 5 to 2, before 7,563.

Lloyd Storie, Cleveland's sub goalie, played a great defensive game to help the Barons win. Whereas the Bears slammed nine goals past Storie the last time they played against him he turned all their shots aside. He was forced into action when the Barons' regular goalie, Paul Gauthier, was injured March 5.

Indianapolis got away to a two-goal lead at Buffalo, but the Bisons rallied to deadlock it at 2-2 then went on to win in the third period on Ed Kobussen's goal early in the third period. Buffalo added two more goals later in the period to sew it up.

Indianapolis plays again at Buffalo Thursday in the second of the best four-of-seven game series while Cleveland travels to Hershey the same night.

Decree Is Entered In Masonic Action

Allentown, Pa., March 22 (AP)—A consent decree was entered last night in an equity suit by the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, Free and Accepted Masons, and the Scottish Rite Masons for the northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States, against an Allentown lodge.

Details were not disclosed but Orrin E. Boyle, counsel for the plaintiffs, said after a conference in the chambers of Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., of Philadelphia, that "we got everything we went after."

The two Masonic bodies sought to restrain Pilgrim Lodge No. 189, A.A.S.R., Allentown Consistory No. 46, S.P.R.S., 32nd Degree A.A.S.R. and a number of officers and members from using the term "Masonic" and certain emblems and insignia. Defense counsel assented to the decree.

MORT COOPER, GORSICA JOIN HOLDOUT RANKS

By TED MEIER

New York, March 22 (AP)—It's official now—big Mort Cooper, whose 21 victories last year sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight National league pennant and who was the only Card hurler to beat the Yankees in the world series—is a holdout.

Fans knew big Mort hadn't signed a contract, but previous reports that he was a holdout were laughed off. However, Sam Breadon, president of the Cards, disclosed last night Cooper had rejected a second contract offered him and that the action definitely classed the tall right-hander as a holdout.

Pitcher Johnny Gorsica, of Detroit, also joined the "I want more dough" ranks. He said at Berkeley, West Virginia, that he would play for $7,500, but not for the $5,000 the Tigers offered him. He indicated he would be happier if Detroit traded him.

On the other side of the picture Jim Gallagher, vice president of the Chicago Cubs, announced Bill Nicholson, hard-hitting outfielder, had signed along with Outfielder Andy Patko, who hit .379 in a two-week trial with the Bruins last fall. Nicholson, whose 128 RBIs topped both leagues in 1943, previously was reported to have scoffed at $15,000 offer.

Other news from big league camps included:

Stirnweiss Ailing
New York Yankees—Second Baseman George Stirnweiss left Atlantic City camp for New York to see a specialist about his sinus trouble.

Washington Senators—Word arrived from Mexico City that Outfielder Epitacio Torres, expected at College Park, Maryland, camp, has decided to play for Monterrey in the Mexican league this year.

Sun Shipbuilding Workers Walk Out

Chester, Pa., March 22 (AP)—An undetermined number of swing shift workers at the vast Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company yards left their jobs late last night in the first dispute since the company and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (CIO) signed a contract last November.

Louis Marquet, president of the union's Local 2, said the work stoppages were not authorized by the union. "All I know is that these men were sore and walked out," he said. "There was a lot of resentment over the dismissal of five or six shop stewards and union officials within the last two weeks."

Marquet said he did not know how many workers were involved. Members of the local said approximately 80 per cent of the burners and welders on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift left their jobs.

Says Capable State GOP Leaders In Past Shunned White House

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—Because of the "rough and tumble" of politics, Governor Martin believes many capable Republicans from Pennsylvania have refused to campaign for the presidency of the United States.

"There have been many outstanding Pennsylvanians who never aspired to the office of president," Martin told reporters yesterday. He listed some of them as former U. S. Senator Philander C. Knox, former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper and former Governor John S. Fisher, all Republicans.

Pennsylvania Chief Justice George W. Moxley said in a Philadelphia St. Patrick's Day speech the Republican party never nominated a Pennsylvanian for the presidency because the American people consider the state's GOP leaders "more as party proprietors than as party leaders."

Willkie's Challenge May Go Unanswered

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's demand that his potential Republican rivals bring their presidential candidacies out into the open seemed likely today to go unanswered by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Willkie voiced the challenge in a speech at Appleton, Wisconsin, following publication of a letter from Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen, who wrote Secretary of the Navy Knox that he (Stassen) would do nothing personally to obtain the presidential nomination but would accept it if it came to him.

Declaring it was difficult to determine from the letter if Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, was a candidate, Willkie said it occurred to him that men unable to discuss the issues with the voters ought to withdraw.

Politicians here interpreted this as a direct challenge to Governor Dewey to enlarge on his previous action in urging the delegates who had filed under his name to withdraw, a request which only a few followed. The same politicians were unanimous in predicting that Dewey would have nothing further to say.

BRADFORD MAY WITHDRAW FROM PIAA PLAYOFFS

(By The Associated Press)

With the field narrowed to eight teams approaching the quarter-final round, dissent entered the PIAA state basketball championship playoffs today as Bradford high school protested what it termed the "unfair" traveling distance involved in inter-district matches.

The Bradford school board protested to Secretary Edmund Wicht of the PIAA the playoff schedule that sends the district 9 champions 140 miles to Farrell next Saturday night to meet Sharon, district 10 titlist, in a western regional semi-final.

Board President J. Paul Jones asserted the Sharon team will have to travel only a few miles to the neighboring community of Farrell. Last year, he said, Bradford was compelled to travel almost the same distance to Sharon to meet Farrell in inter-district play.

He said the board had received no reply from Wicht and intimated a decision might be made by the board at a meeting tomorrow night that would withdraw Bradford from the tournament.

Three Win Games

If Bradford withdrew, the PIAA would have to designate another opponent for Sharon, which advanced to the quarter-finals by defeating Pittsburgh Westinghouse 49-31 last night at Farrell. Westinghouse, champion of the Pittsburgh city league, represented district 8.

The other western quarter-final Saturday night will pit Duquesne WPAL and district 7 champion, against Franklin borough. The Franklinites, district 6 champions, defeated Boswell, district 5 representative, 33-25 last night at Johnstown. Boswell had been undefeated in 23 games.

In the only Eastern game last night, Sayre's district 4 standard-bearers swept past Dalton of district 12 by a 36-15 count for the right to meet Lower Merion, defending state champion, at Allentown Saturday night.

The other Eastern quarter-finalists, Hazleton and Swoyersville, collide in Allentown Friday night. Hazleton, district 11 representative, appears destined to emerge from this game as the leading Eastern challenger to Lower Merion's title quest.

HARRISON WINS AT CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Sgt. "Dutch" Harrison, winner of the $10,000 Charlotte Open Golf tournament after one stroke, went quietly back to his army job today carrying with him two $1,000 war bonds and his lucky dime.

He found the dime on the way to the first tee on the opening day of the tournament.

"The last time that happened to me was before the Bing Crosby tournament five years ago, and I won that one, Dutch recalled.

He said the good luck omen gave him the confidence that stood up under a severe strain yesterday as Philadelphia's Jug McSpaden, most dangerous man on the winter circuit, whittled away at his four-stroke lead.

Harrison won the 72-hole event with a closing 73 for a total of 275, 13 under par. In the army for a year and a half and out of tournament play except for the Texas Open last month, he fired remarkable rounds of 66, 70 and 66 in the rain-lengthened five-day meet.

Held For Assault On Draft Clerk

Erie, Pa., March 22 (AP)—Bernard I. Vid, charged with assaulting Grace Keltz, chief clerk of Westmoreland county draft board No. 2 at Latrobe, was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury.

Vid, a sailor, was arrested last Jan. 8 after government agents charged, he slapped the draft board clerk in the face because he had been inducted.

The grand jury also indicted Daniel L. Baumgardner, former manager of the savings department of the Pitt National bank, Pittsburgh, on 21 counts charging embezzlement and making false entries. The amount involved was $19,690.

DePaul Favored To Beat Aggies

New York, March 22 (AP)—The DePaul Demons, of Chicago, were established an eight-point favorite to beat the Oklahoma Aggies in their feature semi-final game in the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The game, that pits seven-foot Bob Kurland, of the Aggies, against 6:09 George Mikan, of the Demons, is the second of a double-header expected to draw more than 18,000. In the first semi-final game, starting at 8:15 p. m. (EWT), Kentucky plays St. John's of Brooklyn. Kentucky ruled a seven-point favorite.

The two winners tonight will meet for the championship Sunday night with the two losers meeting in a consolation game.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 22 (AP)—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which we find has been plugging amateur and "kid" baseball for a dozen years, seems to be getting results in its new campaign to persuade its inactive (and active) clubs to work with the youngsters. . . . Goldsboro, North Carolina, already has organized two junior leagues since Judge W. G. Bramham outlined the successful Fayetteville, North Carolina, plan and the Lockport, New York, Pony league club comes in with the news that it started a similar stunt last year and expects to have 250-300 kids playing ball this summer. . . . The association also is telling its members how the Denver "Old Timers league" works. . . . And what with the National Baseball congress registering semi-pro candidates Saturday at 8:50 sporting goods stores and most of the pro clubs hollering for help, it looks as if anyone who wants to play baseball this year will get a chance.

ANOTHER YOUTH MOVEMENT

The Utah basketball team, which bounced right into the National Collegiate AA basketball tournament after putting on a swell show against Kentucky in the New York invitation event, averages 18 years in age but the kids look a lot younger. . . . "In fact," explains Coach Vadal Peterson, "we used to put knee pads on the kids so they'd look bigger, but we lost the pads on a trip and can't get any more."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Hollywood is making overtures to Notre Dame's All America halfback Creighton Miller, who isn't looking the other way. . . . Jack McDonald, who survived a hockey season with the Rangers, is heading for Lakewood, New Jersey, to seek a trial with the Giants as a pitcher. . . . Kentucky's Bob Brannum is another basketball player who won't bother to return to college after the tournament. His Army number is up. . . . Wonder if there's any place but America where you'd see the kind of sportsmanship the Garden fans displayed when they gave a big hand to Utah's Wat Misaka, Hawaiian-born Japanese? The kid deserved it, too. . . . Glenn L. Martin, the Baltimore airplane man, will receive the sports field trophy at Minneapolis Friday as the man who did the most for wildlife conservation in 1943.

PRIZE BONER

Jaime Alendro, Jr., 17-year-old Puerto Rican shortstop who is getting a trial with the Jersey City Giants because a San Juan sports-writer wrote a letter about him, will have to do a lot of ball playing to overcome a two-word error he made the other day. . . . When a scribe asked him what was the most popular big league team with his countrymen, Jaime replied: "The Yankees, senior." And right in the New York Giants' camp, too.

SERVICE DEPT.

Bill Dudley, former Virginia and Steelers star back, is taking advanced twin-engine pilot training at Ellington Field, Texas. . . . The guys who tried to tackle him always thought Bill was propelled by twin engines. . . . Three former St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer press sports writers, who worked at the same desk, have been seeing action in the Pacific war theatre. . . . Pfc. Joe Hennessy mixed in the fighting at Kwajalein atoll and boasted more about capturing three quarts of sake than anything he did to the Japs; Y-1-C Ted Randolph saw the Marshalls invasion as a combat correspondent and Lieut. (jg) Perry Dotson is commander of an armed guard crew in the Pacific.

PLAN ELECTION

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board has scheduled an election March 30 when 600 production and maintenance workers at the General Refractories Co., Claysburg, Pa., will determine whether to accept the United Construction Workers (UMW) as collective bargaining agent.

WAR PRISONER

St. Marys, Pa., March 22 (AP)—Relatives have been informed that Second Lieut. Leonard P. Cheadle, reported missing in Italy, is a war prisoner. A brother, Sgt. Walter Cheadle, died recently in Italy from injuries suffered in a plane crash.

KLIEMAN GIVES CREDIT TO FAN FOR HIS SINKER

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Lafayette, Ind., March 22 (AP)—It took strapping Ed Kileman, Cleveland's newest pitching prize, seven years—and the help of a baseball fan—to reach the major league.

Kileman's jump into big time is one of this season's strangest tales and he is quick to give full credit to his sinker ball. A fan actually climbed down out of the stands and taught him pointers on throwing a sinker and Kileman has developed the pitch to such perfection that last year he won 23 games for Baltimore of the International league.

Cleveland called in the Norwood, Ohio, youth for a late-season try in '43, and in his big league debut he shut out the Boston Red Sox for nine innings, only to lose, 1-0, in the 10th inning.

With the rapid development of the sinker came a vicious curve and extra steam until now Kileman has one of the finest changes of pace of any of the 10 pitchers working out in the Indians' spring camp.

The fellow responsible for all this? Kileman forgot to ask him his name.

Teacher Unknown

"It was back in 1942," reflects the 190-pound right-hander, "when I was with Cedar Rapids in the Three Eye league. There was an old guy about 60 who never missed a game in Cedar Rapids—always sat by the bullpen and watched us warm up. Everyone knew him, but not by name.

"One day I was warming up and the old gent comes up in back of me and calmly asks if I knew how to throw a sinker.

"I said: 'No, pop, I don't know much about a sinker—suppose you want to teach me, huh?' and then I kinda laughed.

"But the old fellow took me serious and got right down to business. He showed me how to finger the ball and how to snap the wrist to make it skip like a waterbug. Every day he would come down out of the stands and watch me warm up and suggest new things. I was beginning to feel like Cinderella."

SPORT SHORTS

Boston, March 22 (AP)—Deep in the lists of army casualties released to the press yesterday was the name of Staff Sergeant David F. Cavanaugh, and his listed next of kin was his mother.

Investigation disclosed that the sergeant was one of seven children—all in the services—of the late "Iron Major," Frank Cavanaugh, whose football teams at Dartmouth, Boston college and Fordham spread his name across the nation.

The sergeant, now recovering from facial wounds suffered in the bitter battle going on at Cassino, is the "Dear Dave" to whom "Car" wrote a stirring letter from France in World War I, telling him x x x you must always remember that your father came into this great war for the sake of all little children.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Tippy Larkin ruled a 11 to 5 favorite today to beat his New Jersey rival, Allie Stolz, in their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. In his last appearance at the Garden in February, Larkin outpointed Lulu Constantino. Stolz last fought in the Garden a year ago when he lost to Willie Pep.

Brooklyn, March 22 (AP)—A Red Cross benefit track meet Saturday night in which Ensign Cornelius Warden was to have made an attempt to crack the world pole vault record, was cancelled yesterday because repairs could not be made in time to the recently fire-damaged 13th regiment armory.

Havana, March 22 (AP)—Joe Cambria, scout for the Washington Senators of the American league, visited President Batista yesterday before starting his return journey to the United States.

Cambria told the Cuban leader at least 12 island players had been signed by the Senators.

Witness Missing At Murder Trial

Media, Pa., March 22 (AP)—One of the state's principal witnesses in the first murder trial of John A. (Jackie) Leeds was missing today as the 17-year-old youth's second trial in connection with the fatal beating of two aged sisters continued.

The witness was Charles Mitchell, 18, reported by the prosecution to have been inducted into the Army and sent overseas since Leeds' acquittal two years ago on a charge of murdering Mrs. Elizabeth Geary Watson, 83.

Leeds now is being tried in the slaying of Miss Belle Geary, 80, who lived with Mrs. Watson at Media and who was beaten at the same time.

CLEVELAND AND BUFFALO WIN

(By The Associated Press)

Cleveland and Buffalo, as anticipated, got off on the right foot last night in the opening games of the semi-final eliminations in the American Hockey league playoffs.

Cleveland delighted a home crowd of 8,776 by blanking the Hershey Bears, 2 to 0, while at Buffalo the Bisons came from behind to whip the Indianapolis Caps, 5 to 2, before 7,563.

Lloyd Storie, Cleveland's sub goalie, played a great defensive game to help the Barons win. Whereas the Bears slammed nine goals past Storie the last time they played against him he turned all their shots aside. He was forced into action when the Barons' regular goalie, Paul Gauthier, was injured March 5.

Indianapolis got away to a two-goal lead at Buffalo, but the Bisons rallied to deadlock it at 2-2 then went on to win in the third period on Ed Kobussen's goal early in the third period. Buffalo added two more goals later in the period to sew it up.

Indianapolis plays again at Buffalo Thursday in the second of the best four-of-seven game series while Cleveland travels to Hershey the same night.

Decree Is Entered In Masonic Action

Allentown, Pa., March 22 (AP)—A consent decree was entered late yesterday in an equity suit by the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, Free and Accepted Masons, and the Scottish Rite Masons for the northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States, against an Allentown lodge.

Details were not disclosed but Orrin E. Boyle, counsel for the plaintiffs, said after a conference in the chambers of Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., of Philadelphia, that "we got everything we went after."

The two Masonic bodies sought to restrain Pilgrim Lodge No. 189, A.A.S.R., Allentown Consistory No. 46, S.P.R.S., 32nd Degree A.A.S.R., and a number of officers and members from using the term "Masonic" and certain emblems and insignia.

Defense counsel assented to the decree.

Sun Shipbuilding Workers Walk Out

Chester, Pa., March 22 (AP)—An undetermined number of swing shift workers at the vast Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company yards left their jobs late last night in the first dispute since the company and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (CIO) signed a contract last November.

Louis Marquet, president of the union's Local 2, said the work stoppages were not authorized by the union. "All I know is that these men were sore and walked out," he said. "There was a lot of resentment over the dismissal of five or six shop stewards and union officials within the last two weeks."

Marquet said he did not know how many workers were involved. Members of the local said approximately 80 per cent of the burners and welders on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift left their jobs.

MORT COOPER, GORSICA JOIN HOLDOUT RANKS

By TED MEIER

New York, March 22 (AP)—It's official now—big Mort Cooper, whose 21 victories last year sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight National league pennant and who was the only Card hurler to beat the Yankees in the world series—is a holdout.

Fans knew big Mort hadn't signed a contract, but previous reports that he was a holdout were laughed off. However, Sam Bradon, president of the Cards, disclosed last night Cooper had rejected a second contract offered him and that the action definitely classed the tall right-hander as a holdout.

Pitcher Johnny Gorsica, of Detroit, also joined the "I want more dough" ranks. He said at Berkeley, West Virginia, that he would play for $7,500, but not for the $5,000 the Tigers offered him. He indicated he would be happier if Detroit traded him.

On the other side of the picture Jim Gallagher, vice president of the Chicago Cubs, announced Bill Nicholson, hard-hitting outfielder, had signed along with Outfielder Andy Parko, who hit .379 in a two-week trial with the Bruins last fall. Nicholson, whose 128 RBIs topped both leagues in 1943, previously was reported to have scoffed at $15,000 offer.

Other news from big league camps included:

Stirnweiss Ailing

New York Yankees—Second baseman George Stirnweiss left Atlantic City camp for New York to see a specialist about his sinus trouble.

Washington Senators—Word arrived from Mexico City that Outfielder Epitacio Torres, expected at College Park, Maryland, camp, has decided to play for Monterrey in the Mexican league this year.

Cleveland Indians—Outfielder Cliff Mapes, most promising rookie in camp, received his 1-A classification, thus joining Manager Lou Boudreau, pitcher Vern Kennedy and Infielder Russ Peters.

Chicago White Sox—Pitcher Mike Tresh, expected at French Lick camp today, Manager Jimmy Dykes said Tresh would be regular.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Manager Frankie Frisch pleased with appearance of several rookie pitchers. Squad still working indoors.

Sells Equipment

Cincinnati Reds—Outfielder Max Marshall expects to pass his pre-induction physical exam. Upon leaving for test at Sidney, Iowa, he sold his two gloves and spiked shoes.

St. Louis Browns—Don Guttridge brought 15-year-old Teddy Atkinson, of Scammon, Kansas, to camp with him and predicted he was makings of good outfielder.

Boston Braves—Club still hasn't heard from Chet Ross and Ed Joost, last year regulars. Pitcher Red Barrett signed contract.

Philadelphia Athletics—George Kell, who hit .396 for Lancaster, Pa., in Interstate league last year, may be A's hardest hitting third sacker since Pinky Higgins.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Southpaw Bob Chipman, up from Montreal, signed contract.

Says Capable State GOP Leaders In Past Shunned White House

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—Because of the "rough and tumble" of politics, Governor Martin believes many capable Republicans from Pennsylvania have refused to campaign for the presidency of the United States.

"There have been many outstanding Pennsylvanians who never aspired to the office of president," Martin told reporters yesterday. He listed some of them as former U. S. Senator Philander C. Knox, former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper and former Governor John S. Fisher, all Republicans.

Pennsylvania Chief Justice George W. Maxey said in a Philadelphia St. Patrick's Day speech the Republican party never nominated a Pennsylvanian for the presidency because the American people consider the state's GOP leaders "more as party proprietors than as party leaders."

Willkie's Challenge May Go Unanswered

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's demand that his potential Republican rivals bring their presidential candidacies out into the open seemed likely today to go unanswered by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Willkie voiced the challenge in a speech at Appleton, Wisconsin, following publication of a letter from Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen, who wrote Secretary of the Navy Knox that he (Stassen) would do nothing nominally to obtain the presidential nomination but would accept it if it came to him.

Declaring it was difficult to determine from the letter if Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, was a candidate, Willkie said it occurred to him that men unable to discuss the issues with the voters ought to withdraw.

Politicians here interpreted this as a direct challenge to Governor Dewey to enlarge on his previous action in urging the delegates who had filed under his name to withdraw, a request which only a few followed. The same politicians were unanimous in predicting that Dewey would have nothing further to say.

Supreme Court Hears Loan Case

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Supreme court yesterday heard arguments in the case of Sarah E. McGregor vs. Young township of Jefferson county in which payment of $29,000 borrowed in 1927 is sought.

The case involves alleged illegalities in floating the loan, which was to be used as part payment on highway improvements in the township. When the money was borrowed, according to attorneys in the case, the township did not have a special millage levy for roads, and the $29,000 exceeded the legal percentage of the township's assessed valuation.

The naval rank of commodore is the equivalent of the Army's brigadier general.

SEEK WPB OKAY ON STATE PLAN

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—The commonwealth's proposed $9,357,000 improvement program for correction of conditions at 20 state institutions will be presented to the War Production Board for approval probably next week, Welfare Secretary S. M. R. O'Hara disclosed today.

Several projects have been submitted to Washington but the WPB withheld action pending submission of the entire program, which was authorized by the 1943 legislature.

"We consider each project necessary to eliminate hazards to life and efficient operation," Miss O'Hara said. "We are not pushing one project ahead of another."

Work costing $2,730,000 is proposed at Norristown State hospital.

Other institutions where improvements are planned are hospitals at Somerset, Woodville, Mayview, Farview, Warren, Embreeville, Ashland, Blossburg, Hazleton, Locust Mountain, Phillipsburg, Scranton and Shamokin; and Morgana Training school, Muncy Industrial home, Pennhurst State school, Selingsgrove State Colony and Graterford Prison.

An Evening Thought

Without faith a man can do nothing. But faith can stifle all science—Amiel.

Just Folks

A SOLDIER TALKS
You won't know what it means to be American and safe and free until, day after day, you've stood in mud and slime and human blood; Have eaten food from tins, and then gone back to sweat in filth again; Had insects on your body crawl; Washed in a pail, if washed at all; Trudged in the rain and slept in mire; Lived under shell and rifle fire, And dreamed and waited for the day When you could get back home to stay.

You'll never know how good they are: The radio, the motor car, The morning bath, the mother's meals, The dog that followed at your heels; The friends, the dances and the shows, Lawnmower and the garden hose, Until from them you've been estranged And all you've had by war is changed.

Then you'll exist—not live—I say, Soberly for that one glorious day, That longed for, hoped for moment when You'll see your native land again.

God's country! Bluntly let me state it. Believe me, you'll appreciate it!

Today's Talk

APPRECIATION—IN TIME!

One of the fine books created by Henry D. Thoreau was his "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers." But when it appeared no one bought it! After a time the publishers wrote to him and said they needed the space that the edition took and wanted to know what to do with the books. Thoreau told them to take them out of their cellar and send them to him.

In a wagon they came—706 unsold copies out of 1,000. And the author had to pay for them himself—which took a long time. Said Thoreau: "They are something more substantial than fame, as my back knows, which has borne them up two flights of stairs to a place similar to that to which they trace their origin." Of the remaining two hundred and ninety and odd, seventy-five were given away, the rest sold. Humorously Thoreau commented that out of a library of about a thousand volumes he was the author of "nearly nine hundred volumes."

Viewing this pile of books that reached nearly as high as his head, Thoreau wrote in his Journal: "This is authorship; these are the work of my brain." Nevertheless he went to work again, taking up his pen "with as much satisfaction as ever." Ironically, each single volume of this book is worth today sufficient to have kept its author, at that time, in food and keep for at least a year!

Can anyone measure what appreciation at the right time would have meant to Thoreau? Why do we leave off praise until the worthy one is asleep in his grave? I thought of this when the praise flowed from all over the world when news came to the death of Ray Clapper. Of course, he was greatly beloved and admired by all who knew him in life, but how it would have warmed his heart had those fine things been said about him while yet he lived.

Appreciation is like a rare pearl as a gift. But it must be given in time—while yet its recipient lives and can take it to his heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Inspiration of Beauty."

Efficiency And Hard Work Boost Farm Yields Here

Wider use of labor saving equipment, better farm management, and more efficient use of what is available, were credited today by County Agent M. T. Hartman with enabling the county's farmers to increase their production with a smaller labor force.

Practicing of labor economies during the last several years has allowed a large increase in the amount of work done by an individual farmer, it was pointed out, and great increases have been made in the amount of farm machinery in use. Because of the shortage of labor innumerable changes have been made in storage of feeds and similar articles to allow farmers to handle increased feeding problems with less manpower. Use of feed carts and similar equipment on a number of county farms has increased the efficiency of feeding and handling feeds.

Similar increase in farm efficiency has allowed comparable time saving in other farm work and has allowed one man in many instances to do the work formerly done by two. Greater economies in labor will have to be effected during the coming year however, Mr. Hartman warned, with labor scarcer this year than it has been at any time in the history of the county.

The wider use of labor-saving equipment in the county is part of a state wide trend, it was pointed out. Dr. W. E. Kepper, professor of land economics at the Pennsylvania State college, visited 190 farms in eight counties as part of a study and found that despite a three per cent decrease in labor supply between 1942 and 1943, the amount of work done on the average farm increased one per cent.

More Work Ahead
About three-fourths of the farms visited owned tractors in 1943, one-fourth of which were added or replaced during the previous three years. About half of the farms had hay loaders. One-third of the farms had milking machines. Tractor cultivators and plows also were widely used.

Despite the increases in farm efficiency the amount of work to be done by the individual farmer will be increased, Mr. Hartman asserted. "If we are to meet the goals of food production set up by the government not only must farm efficiency be increased, but the farmers themselves must spread their services over longer hours per day. We found that out last year and this year the labor shortage will be even worse."

ATTEMPTING TO IMPROVE SEEDS

An association to stimulate the production and distribution of superior seed, to retain the purity of good varieties, to sponsor standardization and to create a general interest in seed improvements has been organized by state farmers.

The organization, known as The Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association, was established at State College with a board of 11 directors representing the special fields of small grains and soybeans, corn, potatoes, grasses and legumes as well as the seed trade.

The directorate includes John Siegfried, Lehigh county, and Raymond B. Arnold, Bradford county, chosen to represent small grains and soybeans; Lee Poorbaugh, York county; George Slocum, Northumberland county and Joseph Seem, Lehigh county, representing the corn group; Joseph Fisher, Somerset county and Lyle G. Tarbox, Potter county, representing the potato growers; L. H. Moulton, Erie county and Herman A. Snyder, Lycoming county, representing grasses and legumes and Lester Hug, of the Hoffman Seed company Landisville and William L. Lambert, of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, Manheim, presenting the seed industry. Herman Snyder is president of the group with Lee Poorbaugh and L. H. Moulton, vice presidents.

Late reports indicate that there will be more potash available for use this spring than was expected, according to Penn State extension agronomists. Potatoes need more potash than was at first considered available for use this year.

DARK OUTLOOK FOR '44 CROPS, REPORTS STATE

Washington, March 22 (AP)—A review of the entire farm production picture, particularly government labor, price and machinery policies, appeared likely today as the Agricultural Department issued a melancholy report based on prospective food plantings.

The report, based on a March 1 survey of representatives farmers, indicated that plantings of such crops as soybeans, peanuts, flaxseed, dry beans and peas, sugar beets, potatoes, and sweet potatoes will be considerably short of goals set by the War Food Administration.

Prospects for livestock feed, on the other hand, appear relatively favorable.

Vegetables Stressed

While the overall acreage may reach 374,000,000 acres—6,000,000 short of the goals—compared with 361,000,000 last year, the indicated crop pattern is at variance with that urged by the WFA. The government had placed greater emphasis on direct food crops—particularly those rich in vegetable proteins. The indicated plantings continue to stress livestock feeds—the raw material for meats, poultry and dairy products all of which are sources of animal proteins.

vegetable protein crops because they are the cheapest source of this food element, in terms of manpower, time and acreage. While such feeds as corn and oats for livestock may require less labor than soybeans and dry beans, the latter are ready to eat when harvested.

Mounting farmer concern over shortages of labor and farm machinery was said by the department to be holding down crop expansion. Uncertainties over draft status of deferred farm workers were said to be particularly disturbing. The final planting figures may be even below those indicated, officials said, because of recent selective service action in stepping up requirements for deferment.

The total slaughter of calves and cattle in 1943 exceeded the total for the preceding year by a million head.

Turkey Flocks Will Grow; Fewer Chicks

Chicken numbers on Pennsylvania farms increased 7 per cent and turkeys 6 per cent from January 1, 1943 to January 1, 1944, the state department of Agriculture reports.

The results of a recent survey show that turkey growers in the state plan to raise 9 per cent more turkeys this year than in 1943.

Intended purchases of baby chicks in 1944 by Pennsylvania farmers show a decline of 17 per cent from purchases in 1943, according to the results of a survey of crop correspondents made February 1, by the Pennsylvania Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

Some differences between intentions and actual purchases may be expected, depending upon egg prices during the hatching season and the

Today's Talk

APPRECIATION—IN TIME!
One of the fine books created by Henry D. Thoreau was his "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers." But when it appeared no one bought it! After a time the publishers wrote to him and said they needed the space that the edition took and wanted to know what to do with the books. Thoreau told them to take them out of their cellar and send them to him.

In a wagon they came—706 unsold copies out of 1,000. And the author had to pay for them himself—which took a long time. Said Thoreau: "They are something more substantial than fame, as my back knows, which has borne them up two flights of stairs to a place similar to that to which they trace their origin." Of the remaining two hundred and ninety and odd, seventy-five were given away, the rest sold. Humorously Thoreau commented that out of a library of about a thousand volumes he was the author of "nearly nine hundred volumes."

Viewing this pile of books that reached nearly as high as his head, Thoreau wrote in his Journal: "This is authorship; these are the work of my brain." Nevertheless he went to work again, taking up his pen "with as much satisfaction as ever." Ironically, each single volume of this book is worth today sufficient to have kept its author, at that time, in food and keep for at least a year!

Can anyone measure what appreciation at the right time would have meant to Thoreau? Why do we leave off praise until the worthy one is asleep in his grave? I thought of this when the praise flowed from all over the world when news came of the death of Ray Clapper. Of course, he was greatly beloved and admired by all who knew him in life, but how it would have warmed his heart had those fine things been said about him while yet he lived.

Appreciation is like a rare pearl as a gift. But it must be given in time—while yet its recipient lives and can take it to his heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Inspiration Of Beauty."

Efficiency And Hard Work Boost Farm Yields Here

Wider use of labor saving equipment, better farm management, and more efficient use of what is available, were credited today by County Agent M. T. Hartman with enabling the county's farmers to increase their production with a smaller labor force.

Practicing of labor economies during the last several years has allowed a large increase in the amount of work done by an individual farmer, it was pointed out, and great increases have been made in the amount of farm machinery in use. Because of the shortage of labor innumerable changes have been made in storage of feeds and similar articles to allow farmers to handle increased feeding problems with less manpower. Use of feed carts and similar equipment on a number of county farms has increased the efficiency of feeding and handling feeds.

Similar increase in farm efficiency has allowed comparable time saving in other farm work and has allowed one man in many instances to do the work formerly done by two. Greater economies in labor will have to be effected during the coming year however, Mr. Hartman warned, with labor scarcer this year than it has been at any time in the history of the county.

The wider use of labor-saving equipment in the county is part of a state wide trend, it was pointed out. Dr. W. E. Keeper, professor of land economics at the Pennsylvania State college, visited 190 farms in eight counties as part of a study and found that despite a three per cent decrease in labor supply between 1942 and 1943, the amount of work done on the average farm increased one per cent.

More Work Ahead
About three-fourths of the farms visited owned tractors in 1943, one-fourth of which were added or replaced during the previous three years. About half of the farms had hay loaders. One-third of the farms had milking machines. Tractor cultivators and plows also were widely used. Despite the increases in farm efficiency the amount of work to be done by the individual farmer will be increased, Mr. Hartman asserted. "If we are to meet the goals of food production set up by the government not only must farm efficiency be increased, but the farmers themselves must spread their services over longer hours per day. We found that out last year and this year the labor shortage will be even worse."

ATTEMPTING TO IMPROVE SEEDS

An association to stimulate the production and distribution of superior seed, to retain the purity of good varieties, to sponsor standardization and to create a general interest in seed improvements has been organized by state farmers.

The organization, known as The Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association, was established at State College with a board of 11 directors representing the special fields of small grains and soybeans, corn, potatoes, grasses and legumes as well as the seed trade.

The directorate includes John Siegfried, Lehigh county, and Raymond B. Arnold, Bradford county, chosen to represent small grains and soybeans; Lee Poorbaugh, York county; George Slocum, Northumberland county and Joseph Seem, Lehigh county, representing the corn group; Joseph Fisher, Somerset county and Lyle G. Tarbox, Potter county, representing the potato growers; L. H. Moulton, Erie county and Herman A. Snyder, Lycoming county, representing grasses and legumes and Lester Hug, of the Hoffman Seed company Landisville and William L. Lambert, of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, Manheim, presenting the seed industry. Herman Snyder is president of the group with Lee Poorbaugh and L. H. Moulton, vice presidents.

Late reports indicate that there will be more potash available for use this spring than was expected, according to Penn State extension agronomists. Potatoes need more potash than was at first considered available for use this year.

REBUILT PLANT OF ORRTANNA CO. NEARLY READY

Orrtanna's "Industrial section," the Orrtanna Canning Company plant, which was destroyed by fire December 3, 1942, will be completely rebuilt by the start of the cherry processing season. It was learned today.

A new plant started last October has been nearly constructed and the processing machinery to be installed in the building will be shipped from the manufacturers within the next two weeks for installation.

All-Wood Building
The new building, made of wooden frame with asbestos siding is "L" shaped with the one side 160 feet long by about the same width and the other side 200 feet long by about 100 feet wide. The building is somewhat smaller than the former plant, but through the new design will have about the same floor space as the old building. Ceilings in the new two-story building are higher and the installation of numerous windows will give more light to the 200 workers who will be employed during the canning season. The new plant is modernistic—functional in design.

To obtain lumber for the building the company set up a saw mill last June and since that time has cut, from its own woodlots, approximately 200,000 board feet of construction lumber. All of the girders and other heavy timbers used in the structure were made directly from trees in the Canning company woodlots, near Orrtanna. The millwork was supplied by the I. H. Crouse and Sons company in exchange for an equivalent amount of construction lumber from the Orrtanna company woodlots. The equipment set up at Orrtanna was unable to complete the millwork for window frames, doors and the like.

Erected On Same Site
The new structure is built on the same general site as the plant, built in 1913 and added to nearly every year thereafter, which burned in 1942. Because of the nature of the new building a coordinated plan of placing the machinery can be used. Howard Musselman, of the Orrtanna Canning company, said today. The new plant will allow greater efficiency in the work done, he said.

The boiler building connected with the new plant is nearly completed with workmen engaged in putting up the brick chimney at present. About one-fourth of the construction of the remainder of the plant remains to be done before the machinery is installed and the building completed. Most of the work remaining to be done is on the interior and can be done no matter what the weather, it was said. About 25 workmen have been engaged each day during the winter in the construction.

Other Cannery Helped
The company has been able to obtain "first-line" processing equipment despite the war and only a few changes had to be made from the desired machinery because of war shortages. The new plant will have the same capacity as the old plant, approximately 200,000 cases of fruit per year. Because of lack of storage facilities all of the work must be done during the season while the apples and cherries are being delivered, it was pointed out.

Despite the fire in 1942 no time was lost by the company through the courtesy of two other processing plants in the county. Mr. Musselman said. The cherry crop was canned by the C. H. Musselman company and the apple crop was canned by the Knouse Corporation at Peach Glen.

Masonry and concrete work for the new plant was done by Quigley Hafer, Chambersburg; I. H. Crouse

GROW VEGETABLES
Beans are a popular vegetable in practically all home gardens, while sweet corn also is a desirable vegetable where the additional space needed for the crop is available. Extension vegetable specialists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest snap beans and lima beans, and early, medium, and main crop sweet corn.

BUY GARDEN SEED
Home gardeners are reminded by extension vegetable specialists of Pennsylvania State college to buy only enough seed for the planting they intend to do. That way there will be seed for all gardeners. It is expected that there will be sufficient seed of most vegetables this year, but only if none is wasted.

SAVE THE SOIL
Simple methods of controlling soil erosion are recommended by extension agronomists of the Pennsylvania State college. Thousands of Pennsylvania farmers are using strip cropping to reduce the run-off of water and save the soil on slopes that are steep enough to suffer damage without control.

TIMBER IS NEEDED
Wartime demand for timber still runs strong. Penn State extension foresters report that mill operators are in need of wood for pulpwood, lumber, and other forest products for military and essential home front uses.

and Sons, Littlestown, are doing the carpentry work; the electrical contract is held by John Klinefelter, Biglerville, and George F. Motter and Sons, York, are doing the pipe fitting.

LIME CRUSHING PLANT ERECTED NEAR FAIRFIELD

The first lime crushing plant in western Adams county has been completed about a mile east of Fairfield by Thomas R. and George W. Gingell, Zora quarry operators.

Built on a lime stone quarry which has been inactive for the last 18 years and which is believed to be nearly a century old, the new plant has been operating for the last two weeks and will deliver its first agricultural pulverized lime in the very near future.

Only similar plant in the county is the one operated by George Adams, near New Oxford, and lime from the new plant will be distributed by the Gingells with the company operating an automatic distribution truck that will cover the fields with the lime at the direction of the farmer making the purchase. While it takes twice as much pulverized lime than burnt lime to properly cover a field lower cost of the pulverized product and the fact that it does not need to be slaked makes it more desirable in some instances than burnt lime. It was pointed out.

The old kilns at the Gingell quarry near Fairfield are falling down and were last used 18 years ago, it was stated. The quarry was operated last in 1926 when it was open for two years to provide stone for a road being built in Adams county.

Work on the frame structure which houses the crushing machinery and provides bin space for 250 tons of pulverized lime was started last November and the construction work ended about two weeks ago. Some "bugs" have to be removed from the equipment.

Thomas Gingell said today, before the plant will be completed, but the company expects to be ready to start delivery of the lime as soon as the fields are dry enough to allow the distribution truck to drive across the farmers' fields. The plant will have approximately 100 tons a day capacity.

In Sweden the law of freedom of the press is part of the constitution.

PRICE RISES SIMILAR
World War II has brought about price rises to Pennsylvania farmers amazingly similar to those of World War I, says Dr. G. W. Hedlund, head of the department of agricultural economics at the Pennsylvania State College.

REBUILT PLANT OF ORRTANNA CO. NEARLY READY

Orrtanna's "industrial section," the Orrtanna Canning Company plant, which was destroyed by fire December 3, 1942, will be completely rebuilt by the start of the cherry processing season, it was learned today.

A new plant started last October has been nearly constructed and the processing machinery to be installed in the building will be shipped from the manufacturers within the next two weeks for installation.

All-Wood Building

The new building, made of wood-frame with asbestos siding is "L" shaped with the one side 160 feet long by about the same width and the other side 200 feet long by about 100 feet wide. The building is somewhat smaller than the former plant, but through the new design will have about the same floor space as the old building. Ceilings in the new two-story building are higher and the installation of numerous windows will give more light to the 200 workers who will be employed during the canning season. The new plant is modernistic—functional in design.

To obtain lumber for the building the company set up a saw mill last June and since that time has cut, from its own woodlots, approximately 200,000 board feet of construction lumber. All of the girders and other heavy timbers used in the structure were made directly from trees in the Canning company woodlots, near Orrtanna. The millwork was supplied by the I. H. Crouse and Sons company in exchange for an equivalent amount of construction lumber from the Orrtanna company woodlots. The equipment set up at Orrtanna was unable to complete the millwork for window frames, doors and the like.

Erected On Same Site

The new structure is built on the same general site as the plant, built in 1913 and added to nearly every year thereafter, which burned in 1942. Because of the nature of the new building a coordinated plan of placing the machinery can be used. Howard Musselman, of the Orrtanna Canning company, said today. The new plant will allow greater efficiency in the work done, he said.

The boiler building connected with the new plant is nearly completed with workmen engaged in putting up the brick chimney at present. About one-fourth of the construction of the remainder of the plant remains to be done before the machinery is installed and the building completed. Most of the work remaining to be done is on the interior and can be done no matter what the weather, it was said. About 25 workmen have been engaged each day during the winter in the construction.

Other Canners Helped

The company has been able to obtain "first-line" processing equipment despite the war and only a few changes had to be made from the desired machinery because of war shortages. The new plant will have the same capacity as the old plant, approximately 200,000 cases of fruit per year. Because of lack of storage facilities all of the work must be done during the season while the apples and cherries are being delivered, it was pointed out.

Despite the fire in 1942 no time was lost by the company through the courtesy of two other processing plants in the county. Mr. Musselman said. The cherry crop was canned by the C. H. Musselman company and the apple crop was canned by the Knouse Corporation at Peach Glen.

Masonry and concrete work for the new plant was done by Quigley Hafer, Chambersburg; I. H. Crouse

GROW VEGETABLES

Beans are a popular vegetable in practically all home gardens, while sweet corn also is a desirable vegetable where the additional space needed for the crop is available. Extension vegetable specialists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest snap beans and lima beans, and early, medium, and main crop sweet corn.

BUY GARDEN SEED

Home gardeners are reminded by extension vegetable specialists of Pennsylvania State college to buy only enough seed for the planting they intend to do. That way there will be seed for all gardeners. It is expected that there will be sufficient seed of most vegetables this year, but only if none is wasted.

SAVE THE SOIL

Simple methods of controlling soil erosion are recommended by extension agronomists of the Pennsylvania State college. Thousands of Pennsylvania farmers are using strip cropping to reduce the run-off of water and save the soil on slopes that are steep enough to suffer damage without control.

TIMBER IS NEEDED

Wartime demand for timber still runs strong. Penn State extension foresters report that mill operators are in need of wood for pulpwood, lumber, and other forest products for military and essential home front uses.

and Sons, Littlestown, are doing the carpentry work; the electrical contract is held by John Klinefelter, Biglerville, and George F. Motter and Sons, York, are doing the pipe fitting.

LIME CRUSHING PLANT ERECTED NEAR FAIRFIELD

The first lime crushing plant in western Adams county has been completed about a mile east of Fairfield by Thomas R. and George W. Gingell, Zora quarry operators.

Built on a lime stone quarry which has been inactive for the last 18 years and which is believed to be nearly a century old, the new plant has been operating for the last two weeks and will deliver its first agricultural pulverized lime in the very near future.

Only similar plant in the county is the one operated by George Adams, near New Oxford, and lime from the new plant will be distributed by the Gingells with the company operating an automatic distribution truck that will cover the fields with the lime at the direction of the farmer making the purchase. While it takes twice as much pulverized lime than burnt lime to properly cover a field lower cost of the pulverized product and the fact that it does not need to be slaked makes it more desirable in some instances than burnt lime, it was pointed out.

The old kilns at the Gingell quarry near Fairfield are falling down and were last used 18 years ago, it was stated. The quarry was operated last in 1926 when it was open for two years to provide stone for a road being built in Adams county.

Work on the frame structure which houses the crushing machinery and provides bin space for 250 tons of pulverized lime was started last November and the construction work ended about two weeks ago. Some "bugs" have to be removed from the equipment, Thomas Gingell said today, before the plant will be completed, but the company expects to be ready to start delivery of the lime as soon as the fields are dry enough to allow the distribution truck to drive across the farmers' fields. The plant will have approximately 100 tons a day capacity.

PRICE RISES SIMILAR

World War II has brought about price rises to Pennsylvania farmers amazingly similar to those of World War I, says Dr. G. W. Hedlund, head of the department of agricultural economics at the Pennsylvania State College.

In Sweden the law of freedom of the press is part of the constitution.

FERTILIZE SMALL FRUITS

To produce food to full capacity, small fruits need adequate fertilization. Penn State fruit specialists have prepared recommendations which can be obtained from the county agricultural extension representatives.

SHIP WOOD BY RAIL

Great savings of trucks, gasoline, and tires can be made by using the railroads for transportation of pulpwood, chemical wood, mine props, and sawlogs for hauls longer than 25 miles, say Penn State extension foresters.

Pre-war population of the Kwajalein atoll in the Marshalls was about 1,000.

CO-ED OFFERS EYE TO SOLDIER HURT IN BATTLE

Butler, Pa., March 22 (AP)—To Tech-Sgt. Forrest Vostler, the acme of heroism is not achieved in the heat of battle.

It may stem from the quiet thoughts of someone far removed from the smoke and fire of conflict who is willing to sacrifice even an eye in an effort to help another.

That is why he wants to meet Mrs. Pauline Venard, 25-year-old University of California co-ed who, thinking he was totally blind as a result of war injuries, offered to give him one of her eyes.

The 20-year-old lad from Livonia, New York, hero of one of the aerial sagas of the Eighth Air Force, should know what heroism means. The Flying Fortress gunner has been recommended for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"Would Like to Meet Her"

He stuck by his job although battered about by Nazi shrapnel, saving, perhaps, all his buddies on a big bomber. He repaired a radio after being hit in the legs by Heinle steel, holding a badly-wounded Pal above the surface of the icy waters of the English Channel after his plane crashed. He offered to sacrifice himself to lighten the ship as it limped toward England with two motors gone.

"I'd like to meet Mrs. Venard," he said last night at Deshon hospital here. "I'd like to meet any one that would offer to do that for me, or for any soldier."

"Supreme Sacrifice"

"That would be a supreme sacrifice."

Sgt. Vostler should know. He lost the sight of one eye when, after his legs had been hit and he had repaired the radio to message an S.O.S. to surface craft for help, was struck by another charge of shrapnel. His other eye has developed a cataract that will necessitate an operation to restore useful vision.

Cheerful, modest, the tall, dark, 175-pound youth says, "this hero business has knocked me back on my heels," and adds that in the heat of battle a soldier doesn't think of heroism.

"It's only part of the job."

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Francis Altland son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Altland, has been quarantined for scarlet fever. Francis suffered a broken back in an accident at York Springs last fall and is still wearing a cast.

Fire broke out from an over heated stove pipe at the bungalow of Norman Haar, near Maple Grove Chapel, Saturday night about 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Haar was reading in the living room when the lights went out due to flame burning the wires. The Abbottstown fire company responded to a call for help. Water was pumped from a nearby dam. Considerable damage was done from flames and water.

Mrs. Gilbert Zeigler returned home Friday from Kentucky where she spent several days with her husband, Pvt. Gilbert Zeigler.

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Two separate House probes were projected today into charges that farmers are being coerced into signing up for Federal agricultural programs under threat of military induction and deprivation of gasoline rations and farm machinery.

The charges were made by Representatives Ritzke (R.-Okla.) and Harness (R.-Ind.). Harness, a member of the House Military Draft Deference subcommittee, said the bringing of any such pressure on farmers was "reprehensible" and added:

"It can be construed only to mean that unless the (draft) registrant signs up with the Agricultural Adjustment Agency and agrees to the programs promulgated by its long-haired planners, he will not be considered for deferment as an agricultural worker."

Committee to Act

Chairman May (D.-Ky.) of the Military committee said he would instruct the draft deferment subcommittee to begin a study of the matter immediately. Chairman Smith (D.-Va.) of a special committee checking on the operation of government agencies, said he would question federal officials "about this thing" with a view to undertaking a separate inquiry.

And, as war industries faced loss of many of their currently-deferred workers under a new draft policy, President Roosevelt indicated there would be some special consideration for the more highly-trained young experts.

In a letter to the American Chemical society, Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged that younger scientists probably have the best training in new scientific developments and that taking them out of work would "deter the conduct of the war."

Exhibits Notice

The Chief Executive said he was studying the whole situation with regard to drafting of young men in industry. He is expected to issue a policy statement this week.

In his charge of pressure on farmers, Harness displayed a mimeographed notice sent to a draft-age farmer in his district by the Grant County (Indiana) Local Board No. 2. It directed the registrant to report to his Agriculture War board within five days and added the capitalized and underscored words: "after you have signed up at your township A.A.A. meeting."

"It is very important," the notice continued, that a certified copy of 1944 production be maintained "as directed since in its absence you may be placed in Class I-A and held for military service."

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Rep. Miller (R-Mo) said he would produce two sailors who would substantiate a story that a U. S. task force was trapped by the Japanese in Alaskan waters "because of the bungling" of the Federal Communications commission.

Miller's assertion was made at resumption of hearings by a special House committee investigating the FCC.

He questioned Charles R. Denny, chief counsel of the agency about the task force report which had been aired in previous committee sessions.

Miller asserted that Adm. Stanford C. Hooper, former Pearl Harbor communications officer, had been "silenced by executive order" or he could back up the veracity of the report, too.

Speaking slowly and in deep tones, Miller declared that amateurs in the Federal Communications commission had given a naval task force wrong information about the disposition of a Japanese force off Alaska. The U. S. group, he stated, went in the direction presumed to be safe and was attacked.

FARM GIRL TO FACE NEW JURY IN MURDER CASE

Mercer, Pa., March 22 (AP)—The Commonwealth moved for a second time today to place murder charges against blonde Janice Graham, 20-year-old farm girl, whose trial as an accessory after the fact in the triple Mercer farm slayings of last Oct. 7, was brought to an unexpected and dramatic end.

District Attorney Edwin C. Moon ordered her arrest after a motion to end the trial and nolle pros the accessory charge was granted yesterday by Judge George H. Rowley and the jury was dismissed.

"The commonwealth is determined to find out who committed the murders," said Moon, referring to the shotgun slayings of Mrs. Katherine Wilson, 76, and Robert McKay, 70, which were left unsolved when a jury last December acquitted William A. Morell, 20.

Takes All Blame

Morell, the farm hand who stands convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the death by strangling of Mrs. Helen Wilson, 48, repeated on the witness stand at Janice's trial yesterday his denial of blame for the shotgun killings and inferentially involved the girl.

On the stand nearly three hours, Morell refused to be shaken in his testimony, either by assistant prosecutor Alvin R. Isenberg or by defense counsel T. A. Sampson.

CO-ED OFFERS EYE TO SOLDIER HURT IN BATTLE

Butler, Pa., March 22 (AP)—To Tech-Sgt. Forrest Vosler, the acme of heroism is not achieved in the heat of battle.

It may stem from the quiet thoughts of someone far removed from the smoke and fire of conflict who is willing to sacrifice even an eye in an effort to help another.

That is why he wants to meet Mrs. Pauline Venard, 25-year-old University of California co-ed who, thinking he was totally blind as a result of war injuries, offered to give him one of her eyes.

The 20-year-old lad from Livonia, New York, hero of one of the aerial sagas of the Eighth Air Force, should know what heroism means. The Flying Fortress gunner has been recommended for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"Would Like to Meet Her"

He stuck by his job although battered by Nazi shrapnel, saving, perhaps, all his buddies on a big bomber. He repaired a radio after being hit in the legs by Heinie steel, holding a badly-wounded Pal above the surface of the icy waters of the English Channel after his plane crashed. He offered to sacrifice himself to lighten the ship as it limped toward England with two motors gone.

"I'd like to meet Mrs. Venard," he said last night at Deshon hospital here. "I'd like to meet anyone that would offer to do that for me, or for any soldier."

"Supreme Sacrifice"

"That would be a supreme sacrifice."

Sgt. Vosler should know. He lost the sight of one eye when, after his legs had been hit and he had repaired the radio to message an S.O.S. to surface craft for help, was struck by another charge of shrapnel. His other eye has developed a cataract that will necessitate an operation to restore useful vision.

Cheerful, modest, the tall, dark, 175-pound youth says, "this hero business has knocked me back on my heels," and adds that in the heat of battle a soldier doesn't think of heroism.

"It's only part of the job."

HOUSE PROBING CHANGES OF AAA-DRAFT COERCION

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Two separate House probes were projected today into charges that farmers are being coerced into signing up for Federal agricultural programs under threat of military induction and deprivation of gasoline rations and farm machinery.

The charges were made by Representatives Ritzley (R-Okla.) and Harness (R-Ind.). Harness, a member of the House Military Draft Deferment subcommittee, said the bringing of any such pressure on farmers was "reprehensible," and added:

"It can be construed only to mean that unless the (draft) registrant signs up with the Agricultural Adjustment Agency and agrees to the programs promulgated by its long-haired planners, he will not be considered for deferment as an agricultural worker."

Committee to Act

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the Military committee said he would instruct the draft deferment subcommittee to begin a study of the matter immediately. Chairman Smith (D-Va.), of a special committee checking on the operation of government agencies, said he would question federal officials "about this thing" with a view to undertaking a separate inquiry.

And, as war industries faced loss of many of their currently-deferred workers under a new draft policy, President Roosevelt indicated there would be some special consideration for the more highly-trained young experts.

In a letter to the American Chemical society, Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged that younger scientists probably have the best training in new scientific developments and that taking them out of work would "deter the conduct of the war."

Exhibits Notice

The Chief Executive said he was studying the whole situation with regard to drafting of young men in industry. He is expected to issue a policy statement this week.

In his charge of pressure on farmers, Harness displayed a mimeographed notice sent to a draft-age farmer in his district by the Grant County (Indiana) Local Board No. 2. It directed the registrant to report to his Agriculture War board within five days and added the capitalized and underscored words: "after you have signed up at your township A.A.A. meeting."

"It is very important," the notice continued, that a certified copy of 1944 production be maintained "as directed since in its absence you may be placed in Class 1-A and held for military service."

The restriction will become effective April 1.

The order stated tersely that "for operational reasons," only a few non-residents, who will be rigidly controlled, will be allowed to enter the "protected area," which extends from the wash in the middle of the east coast to Land's End at England's southwestern extremity.

Preparing Tax Refund Checks

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—The first refund schedule for overpaid 1943 taxes was received Monday by the income tax office, Collector Stanley Granger said. He added that it will be "some time" before the 500 citizens listed, most of them in the armed forces, receive refunds.

Audited in New York, the forms will be rechecked here, then sent to Cleveland where checks will be written. Overpayments in the first schedule ranged from 43 cents to $263, Granger said.

'44 TAX OUTLOOK

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the House Ways and Means committee said Tuesday that more than 15,000,000 of the 50,000,000 taxpayers will have to estimate their 1944 income and pay a portion of the tax on it by April 15, and that there is little hope of any last minute legislative respite.

WATER BOARD TO HOLD HEARINGS

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—The state sanitary water board Tuesday outlined a tentative schedule of public hearings in its program to rid Pennsylvania streams of sewage and industrial wastes.

Health Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart, board chairman, said previously the hearings would be held to acquaint municipalities and industries bordering state waterways with "what is required of them in the way of treatment works" and to permit them to present their side of the problem.

Approximately a dozen hearings will be held, the first the latter part of next month.

"We will present the requirements of the board and give those attending a chance to make any statements or to submit any data they wish," a board spokesman explained.

The tentative hearing schedule, dates for which will be announced later, has been set up on a "basin basis."

State Newsies Lead U. S. In Stamp Sales

The Gettysburg Times carriers have sold 3,644,156 war stamps through January 29.

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania newspaper carrier boys, praised by a U. S. Treasury official as "young soldiers of democracy," lead the nation in sales of war stamps.

Ted R. Gamble, director of the Treasury Department's War Finance division, told the annual meeting of the Interstate Circulation Managers association Monday night that the state's newsboys have sold the equivalent of 137,787,917 ten-cent war stamps.

"It is fitting that this high honor should come to Pennsylvania because the idea of newspaper boys selling bonds and stamps was born in Philadelphia in the shadow of Independence hall," Gamble said.

"To date, 150,000 newspaper boys of the country have sold over 1,100,000,000 ten-cent war stamps. What better demonstration is there of the fact that every man, woman and child in the country is truly backing the attack? Pennsylvania has a right to feel proud of its young soldiers of democracy."

ams county going over the top before the end of the month.

"Adams county has never failed to raise its Red Cross quota in any emergency and it will not fail to do so in this one. However, the home stretch is the difficult part of the race and it is going to require the intense interest, work and co-operation of all chairmen, solicitors and contributors to enable us to attain our goal by the end of the month.

Contributions today include: $100 from the G. C. ## EXPECT 12 LBS. OF BUTTER PER PERSON IN '44

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Butter set aside for American civilians this year will average 12 pounds per person, or about a half pound less than last year.

Reason for the cut: Expanding military needs.

Do you wonder—How much of our butter goes to the Russians? Why do we send them any? Does the butter they get from us deprive us of some?

The War Food administration gives these answers:

Only Slight "Dent"

The Russians say they need butter for their troops and wounded to make up shortages in their own supply. Therefore, they get it from us. England imports most of its butter from Argentina, New Zealand and Australia.

The butter we send the Russians puts a comparatively slight dent in our own stocks. We give them in lend-lease less than five per cent of our total butter.

In addition the Russians get from us margarine and fats, like lard.

This country's butter supply this year—about the same as in 1943—will be 2,046,000,000 pounds.

How Distributed

To meet the various demands, the butter is distributed this way with the percentage of the total in parentheses:

Civilians: 1,556,000,000 lbs. (76 per cent); military, which includes the armed services and the War Shipping administration: 366,500,000 (18); Red Cross and territories like Hawaii and Puerto Rico: 11,000,000 (½ of 1 per cent); lend-lease: almost all to Russia: 102,000,000 (5); reserves set aside for emergencies: 10,000,000 (½ of 1 per cent).

Margarine production is breaking all records and has soared in the past three years as American butter had to be spread around the world.

In 1942 margarine output was 426 million pounds. It climbed to 614 million pounds in 1943. This year it will be 739,200,000 pounds.

EXPECT 12 LBS. OF BUTTER PER PERSON IN '44

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Butter set aside for American civilians this year will average 12 pounds per person, or about a half pound less than last year.

Reason for the cut: Expanding military needs. Do you wonder—

How much of our butter goes to the Russians? Why do we send them any? Does the butter they get from us deprive us of some?

The War Food administration gives these answers:

Only Slight "Dent"
The Russians say they need butter for their troops and wounded to make up shortages in their own supply. Therefore, they get it from us. England imports most of its butter from Argentina, New Zealand and Australia.

The butter we send the Russians puts a comparatively slight dent in our own stocks. We give them in lend-lease less than five per cent of our total butter.

In addition the Russians get from us margarine and fats, like lard.

This country's butter supply this year—about the same as in 1943—will be 2,046,000,000 pounds.

How Distributed
To meet the various demands, the butter is distributed this way with the percentage of the total in parentheses:

Civilians: 1,556,000,000 lbs. (76 per cent); military, which includes the armed services and the War Shipping administration: 366,500,000 (18); Red Cross and territories like Hawaii and Puerto Rico: 11,000,000 (1/2 of 1 per cent); lend-lease, all most all to Russia: 102,000,000 (5); reserves set aside for emergencies: 10,000,000 (1/2 of 1 per cent).

Margarine production is breaking all records and has soared in the past three years as American butter had to be spread around the world.

In 1942 margarine output was 426 million pounds. It climbed to 614 million pounds in 1943. This year it will be 739,200,000 pounds.

Four Pounds of Oleo
Margarine set aside for civilian consumption will average about four pounds per person.

This is the margarine distribution with the percentage of the total in parentheses:

Civilians: 559,200,000 pounds (75 per cent); lend-lease, with most of it divided about equally between Russia and the United Kingdom: 158,400,000 (21 1/2); Red Cross and the territories: 20,400,000 (3); military: 1,200,000 (1/2 of 1 per cent).

have the brooder house, stove, and other equipment ready for arrival of the baby chicks, suggest poultry extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Have the house clean, check the stove operation before the chicks arrive, provide litter, and place feeding and watering equipment.

Provide Litter—Dry, soft wood shavings make the most economical and satisfactory nest litter, say Penn State poultry specialists.

Be Ready for Chicks—Be sure to

ESCAPE from PARIS

By Marion McClure Stewart AP Features

Yesterday: Johnny Farrel, the American flyer who is hiding from the Nazis, is given refuge in Pierre Dussault's secret cellar, where his new French friends treat him for a sprained ankle and slight concussion. Adrienne is to be his nurse.

Chapter 3
There was much contrast in the French Underground. Raoul de Lamothé was slim dark, dapper and goodlooking. Antoine Castangway was fair in complexion, with strong rugged features. He had a lean sinewy build, and was roughly dressed. His work in a Nazi controlled, French Munition plant afforded him plenty of opportunities for sabotage.

Raoul's job as dispenser in a chemist's shop left him little leisure; but he often worked far into the night running the small printing press in Pierre Dussault's cellar, running off leaflets composed by Pierre Dussault and himself.

Receiving reports of sabotage in German controlled munition plants and shipyards from the multitude of workers also occupied his time. This work was carried on faithfully as well by Dussault and the headwaiter at the Cafe, Gabord Benoit. The Nazi invasion had put an abrupt end to Raoul's course in Medicine at the Sorbonne and his dream of a medical career.

"You see, Mon Ami," Antoine shook his head ominously, "the arrival of this airman has been unfortunate for us all and for the work we are doing, especially as Herr Schafer happened to see him. Now that his suspicions have become aroused, undoubtedly the cafe will be watched vigilantly. You say Dussault purposes to keep him hiding in the cellar?"

"You should know Pierre by this time, Antoine. When he makes up his mind it is useless to argue," Raoul's brows were drawn in an anxious frown.

"You have seen the flier, Raoul?" Raoul nodded gloomily.

"On receiving word through Gabord, I went immediately to the cafe. Gabord served me some dinner; then when the other diners had departed I went below with Dussault and saw the airman. He unfortunately has a sprained ankle and can't walk at present. In addition, there has been a slight concussion which will, I hope soon clear up. Personally I don't see how we can move him for the present."

Inwardly resentful of the fact of Adrienne being brought in daily contact with John Farrel, Raoul's face clouded.

Antoine looked at his watch. "It is time for the B.B.C. hour," He turned on the radio.

Raoul's train of thought was abruptly cut short by an agitated knocking on the door. Antoine threw it open instantly to disclose the figure of a thin, elderly woman carrying a market basket.

"Turn it off quickly," she cried, her face contorted with fear. "As I came down the street I saw them—those two Gestapo men, who arrested poor Madame Vanier the other day. They took her away and we have had no word of her since." Tears rose to the woman's eyes.

Antoine had barely turned off the radio when heavy footsteps resounded overhead and the clamor of voices both French and German issued down the stairway from the upper hall, heavy guttural voices questioning the patronne, her shrill protests rising on the air.

A moment later Raoul and Antoine, their eyes meeting anxiously heard the key turn in the lock. Both were silent as the voices suddenly ceased. The footsteps were heard again, then appeared to be retreating. A moment later Raoul, rising to glance through the window above their heads, saw the shadows of two figures passing down the street.

It was with a fatigued air that Pierre Dussault entered the restaurant the next morning. He and Adrienne had taken turns in sitting with the American flier. Covered warmly with blankets, with a cold compress on his head, John had slept fitfully, moaning and talking in his sleep. Towards morning he said he felt better and drank some fruit juice and hot coffee.

Dussault was having crisp rolls and butter and apricot jam, when he looked up to see Herr Schafer entering the cafe.

With a foreboding of danger in the air, he went on sipping his coffee. Possibly the agent had come for his breakfast, merely a pretext for gathering news.

However, Schafer made no pretense of desiring breakfast. He approached the proprietor's table and addressed Dussault in his customary brusque manner.

"Bonjour Monsieur. Will you kindly inform me what became of the man who sat near me yesterday in the cafe? He gave his name as Henri Delisle, and said he was a munition worker."

"Henri Delisle," echoed M. Dussault, a perplexed frown gathering between his brows. "I don't know the man. Are you alluding to the one whose head was bandaged? I must admit I never saw him before."

Herr Schafer fixed his cold blue eyes on Pierre. "Yes, that is the man. You will admit, Monsieur, it is very strange that he should have left the cafe without being observed by our man who was stationed outside."

"M'sieu! you speak in riddles," retorted Dussault in amazement. "How can I possibly know the exact moment of departure of our many patrons? You must realize I am a busy man—too busy to take note of such trivialities."

"Then perhaps Mademoiselle Girard could throw some light on the subject?" Schafer's scrutiny had shifted toward Adrienne who entered as that moment with a breakfast order for a customer.

"Fraulein, it is possible you noticed the departure yesterday afternoon of the young man with the bandaged head, who claimed to be Henri Delisle, a munition worker. In answer to our enquiries at the plant to which he referred, we have discovered there is no such person employed there."

"M'sieu evidently credits me with a power of mind reading I do not possess." Adrienne spoke pertly as she put the dishes down on a nearby table; then she turned towards him with a provocative smile. "I exchanged few words with the young man in question. I had never seen him before. Later when I returned from the kitchen with an order, he had gone."

Herr Schafer, though temporarily baffled, left the cafe shortly afterwards with the light of battle in his eye.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Looking to the post-war day when it expects to have its own broadcast plant, the BLU network has been surveying sites and planning studios in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. At present it uses the facilities of NBC, of which it once was a part, under a rental arrangement continuing into the peace era.

President Mark Woods said that the network hopes also to obtain its own stations in Washington and Los Angeles as well as a full-time outlet in Chicago. These would be in addition to the network owned WJZ in New York, WENR in Chicago on the air part-time, and KGO in San Francisco. WMAL in Washington is operated under lease from the Washington Star.

17-PT. POLICY BY HULL BIDS FOR U.S. LEAD

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 22 (AP)—A 17-point foreign policy statement by Secretary of State Hull today gave the United States a bid for postwar political leadership, and at the same time brought into sharper relief a half dozen questions of immediate diplomatic concern.

Hull's statement was viewed here as setting goals for long range international cooperation and security on a basis of sovereign equality of all countries, large or small, beyond the limits to which other world leaders have committed themselves.

The immediate questions for which his program furnishes a background are outside the scope of his statement, which is based on Hull's speeches over the past two years. But they may be decided in the light of the principles he laid down. They are:

1. What kind of relationship, military or diplomatic, is this government ready to extend to the French National committee or possibly other patriotic groups, in preparation for the liberation of France by Allied invasion armies?
2. Should the United States now break relations with Finland over Helsinki's rejection of Russia's peace terms, which official Washington considered lenient in view of Finland's inevitable defeat?
3. If Russia, whose armies are penetrating steadily deeper into Poland, decides finally against dealing with the Polish government in London, will the United States (and Britain as well) recognize a new Polish government?
4. What measures is the United States prepared to support for beginning the political reconstruction of Italy after Allied armies reach Rome, at which point the Badoglio government is supposed to relinquish control?
5. How long can the United States maintain its present policy of withholding recognition from Argentina without actively implementing its dislike of the present regime through economic measures?
6. Will the United States in collaboration with Britain further tighten restrictions on pro-Axis Spain and pro-Allied Turkey if those neutrals do not sever trade relations with Germany, and on neutral Ireland if it persists in harboring Axis officials.

Victory Is Paramount

Several of the secretary's 17 points were considered pertinent to current problems even though in the main he was concerned with clarifying American policy for the post-war period. He declared that "at the present time, the paramount aim of our foreign policy is to defeat our enemies as quickly as possible."

Other points known to be applicable to current situations, such as the French recognition problem, include a statement that each nation "should be free to decide for itself the forms and detail of its governmental organization," a basic belief which prevents this government from committing itself to the support of any political force in occupied European countries before the peoples of those countries have a chance to express their will.

Another point which had the ring of a summons to people under the Axis yolk to rally now to the United Nations cause, was Hull's assertion that "there is no surer way for men and for nations to show themselves worthy of liberty than to fight for its preservation."

Starts Life Term On Murder Count

Philadelphia, March 22 (AP)—Life imprisonment—the sentence he asked for—began today for 21-year-old Leo McMahon, convicted of first degree murder in the shooting of a driver-salesman during an attempted payroll robbery last January.

The state asked the death penalty but Lemuel B. Schofield, McMahon's counsel, told the jury: "The only verdict you can bring in is life imprisonment, so that we can all go home to our beds and sleep the sleep of the just."

McMahon contended the shot that killed Roland Scheibelhut, 38, of Camden, New Jersey, was fired by his holdup companion, Raymond Pierce, 34, who has pleaded guilty to a murder charge and is under sentence of death.

Special Session To Be Decided Today

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—Whether a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature will be necessary to liberalize the commonwealth's soldier vote law was expected to be decided today after Governor Martin's special Advisory Committee on the problem reports to the chief executive.

Martin has expressed hope a special session may be avoided by use of special war powers granted him by the 1943 legislature, but he assured President Roosevelt it is his desire that Pennsylvania take any necessary action before July 15 to allow members of the armed forces from this state to vote next November.

The chief executive also has indicated that should it be found necessary to call the general assembly back to Harrisburg, the call would be limited to amendment of the commonwealth's election laws and would be for a two-week session about May 1.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Looking to the post-war day when it expects to have its own broadcast plant, the BLU network has been surveying sites and planning studios in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. At present it uses the facilities of NBC, of which it once was a part, under a rental arrangement continuing into the peace era.

President Mark Woods said that the network hopes also to obtain its own stations in Washington and Los Angeles as well as a full-time outlet in Chicago. These would be in addition to the network owned WJZ in New York, WENR in Chicago on the air part-time, and KGO in San Francisco. WMAL in Washington is operated under lease from the Washington Star.

17-PT. POLICY BY HULL BIDS FOR U. S. LEAD

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 22 (AP)—A 17-point foreign policy statement by Secretary of State Hull today gave the United States a bid for postwar political leadership, and at the same time brought into sharper relief a half dozen questions of immediate diplomatic concern.

Hull's statement was viewed here as setting goals for long range international cooperation and security on a basis of sovereign equality of all countries, large or small, beyond the limits to which other world leaders have committed themselves.

The immediate questions for which his program furnishes a background are outside the scope of his statement, which is based on Hull's speeches over the past two years. But they may be decided in the light of the principles he laid down. They are:

1. What kind of relationship, military or diplomatic, is this government ready to extend to the French National committee or possibly other patriotic groups, in preparation for the liberation of France by Allied invasion armies?
2. Should the United States now break relations with Finland over Helsinki's rejection of Russia's peace terms, which official Washington considered lenient in view of Finland's inevitable defeat?
3. If Russia, whose armies are penetrating steadily deeper into Poland, decides finally against dealing with the Polish government in London, will the United States (and Britain as well) recognize a new Polish government?
4. What measures is the United States prepared to support for beginning the political reconstruction of Italy after Allied armies reach Rome, at which point the Badoglio government is supposed to relinquish control?
5. How long can the United States maintain its present policy of withholding recognition from Argentina without actively implementing its dislike of the present regime through economic measures?
6. Will the United States in collaboration with Britain further tighten restrictions on pro-Axis Spain and pro-Allied Turkey if those neutrals do not sever trade relations with Germany, and on neutral Ireland if it persists in harboring Axis officials.

Victory Is Paramount

Several of the secretary's 17 points were considered pertinent to current problems even though in the main he was concerned with clarifying American policy for the post-war period. He declared that "at the present time, the paramount aim of our foreign policy is to defeat our enemies as quickly as possible."

Other points known to be applicable to current situations, such as the French recognition problem, include a statement that each nation "should be free to decide for itself the forms and detail of its governmental organization," a basic belief which prevents this government from committing itself to the support of any political force in occupied European countries before the peoples of those countries have a chance to express their will.

Another point which had the ring of a summons to people under the Axis yolk to rally now to the United Nations cause, was Hull's assertion that "there is no surer way for men and for nations to show themselves worthy of liberty than to fight for its preservation."

Special Session To Be Decided Today

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—Whether a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature will be necessary to liberalize the commonwealth's soldier vote law was expected to be decided today after Governor Martin's special Advisory Committee on the problem reports to the chief executive.

Martin has expressed hope a special session may be avoided by use of special war powers granted him by the 1943 legislature, but he assured President Roosevelt it is his desire that Pennsylvania take any necessary action before July 15 to allow members of the armed forces from this state to vote next November.

The chief executive also has indicated that should it be found necessary to call the general assembly back to Harrisburg, the call would be limited to amendment of the commonwealth's election laws and would be for a two-week session about May 1.

London, March 22 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons today that the British government "was not consulted beforehand" in the Soviet Russian recognition of the Badoglio government in Italy and is asking Moscow why.

(Secretary Hull made it clear last Friday that the USSR had not consulted the United States, either.)

Annapolis, Md., March 22 (AP)—The name of Wendell L. Wilkie was marked down today for a place on the ballot in Maryland's Republican presidential preference primary May 1.

"I do not seek and will do nothing personally to secure the nomination. If, not withstanding this position I were to be nominated, I would consider it to be my plain duty to accept and would do so, requesting inactive duty for a sufficient time to discuss with the people the issues and problems of the future."
